

County Court Notifies Michael To Increase Bond to $750,000

BENTON — The Scott county court, according to prosecuting attorney Tom Gilmore yesterday notified collector Aubrey Michael his bond must be increased from $200,000 to $750,000 within 10 days.

Gilmore said $750,000 is the maximum required by law and the $200,000 was based on the collector making daily deposits, which he said has not been done. Gilmore said because of this the court has the right to demand additional bond coverage.

The prosecutor said Michael has 10 days to obtain additional bond coverage, and if he does not do it, Gov. Warren Hearnes will be notified of a vacancy in the office.

Since it has been reported the office may be closed or vacated, the wheels of Scott County politics have been grinding. If Michael's office were to be vacated, Governor Hearnes would be submitted a nominee by the Scott county Democratic committee to fill the term, which expires in March of 1971. Hearnes isn't bound to follow the committee's recommendation but he usually does.

Political sources indicate County Clerk Phil Waldman and Scott County Democrat Committee Chairman Bill Lewis are potential nominees. Both have said they would accept the office should a vacancy occur.

60-Day Sentence For Non Support

John McWhirter, Bertrand, was sentenced to 60 days in the Scott County jail this morning in magistrate court on a charge of failing to adequately provide for his seven children.

Special judge John Hux imposed the sentence after Sheriff John Dennis told him McWhirter's children were living with his wife's parents, who make a living by day labor.

Hux is serving in the absence of Magistrate M. E. Montgomery. James E. Moore III, assistant Scott County prosecuting attorney, represented the state.

Paul Phillips, Louisiana, Mo., was given a suspended 30-day sentence on a charge of appearing in the circuit court room at Benton in an intoxicated condition. He was fined $10 and given one year's probation.

Travis McWhirter, Bertrand, was fined $10 for careless driving and $5 for not having a driver's license.

Three persons were fined for speeding. They were Mary Casey, 524 Coleman, $20, and Barbara Sanford, Scott City, $12, and Larry Pigg, New Madrid, $50.

Ernest Collins, 302 Lyons, was fined $5 for careless driving. James Hagen, 905 Lora, was fined $5 for failure to have a driver's license.

Judge Hux set $2000 bond for Robert L. Brown, St. Louis, who is charged with felonious theft. He is accused of stealing a chain saw, a shotgun and a .22 caliber rifle from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Bell, route one, Oran, earlier this month. The case was one continued one week to allow Brown time to get legal counsel.

Supreme Court Asked for $115,000 Award

WASHINGTON AP — Stephen Dennison, now 60 and gray-haired, appealed today to the Supreme Court for $115,000 for the 34 years he spent in prison for stealing $5 worth of chocolate bars and marshmallows.

Through attorneys, the unemployed Glens Falls, N.Y., janitor said the money, once awarded him by a claims court, would be partial compensation for "the lifetime he could never enjoy."

The award was set aside by New York appeals courts on the grounds Dennison, classified by reformatory officials as a "low-grade moron," could not hold the state liable even if state doctors were wrong in ruling him mentally defective.

As a boy of 16, Dennison was arrested for stealing candy from a roadside stand in his hometown, Salem, N.Y. He was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation. When he did not report monthly to a minister he was sent to the Elmira reformatory.

There officials decided - Dennison's attorneys later called it a "tragic mistake" - he was mentally deficient. He was transferred to an institution for male defective delinquents at Naponach, N.Y., and later to the Dannemora State Hospital.

In 1960, after 34 years in state institutions, he was released through the efforts of a brother, George, who was convinced he was sane. The biggest sentence Dennison could have received for the $5 theft was 10 years.

Arrested After Two Drivers Road Mishaps

Two drivers were arrested following accidents Monday, one on a charge of excessive speed and the other for failure to yield the right-of-way.

A 1968 Chevrolet, driven by Modene Gatewood, 49, Caruthersville, attempted a left turn on route EE at the intersection of Interstate 55 at Marston, at 9:45 a.m., and pulled into the path of a 1964 Chrysler, driven by William Learee, 48, Milford, Mich.

The Gatewood woman received minor cuts and scratches, and was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial hospital, in Hayti. She was given a summons for failure to yield the right-of-way.

At 7:20 p.m. on route D, five miles east of Holland, Robert George Brown, 17, Steele, a passenger in a 1962 Buick, driven by James E. Moody, 45, Holland, received a fractured right leg and possible internal injuries.

Moody lost control, ran off the road and overturned.

Brown was taken to the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital. Moody was cited for speeding.

Israel Angrily Rejects U.S. Proposals For Peace Agreement in Middle East

TEL AVIV AP — Israel, in one of its strongest blasts at the United States, has rejected U.S. proposals for a Middle East peace agreement, calling them "appeasement of the Arabs" which "seriously prejudice prospects for peace."

On the battlefield, Israeli commandos struck into Egypt again Monday night to mortar an Egyptian naval base on the Red Sea coast, the Israeli command said. It was the second raid on an Egyptian military installation in five days.

Relations between Israel and the United States, home of the Jewish nation's chief financial backers, were at their lowest point in years.

A communique issued after a special session Monday of Premier Golda Meir's Cabinet said the American proposals for peace between Israel and Jordan and between Israel and Egypt contain nothing obliging the Arabs to end hostilities and would encourage Arab hostility.

The statement said Israel "views with concern the disquieting initiatives of the United States at the four power talks" on the Middle East which the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France have been holding in New York and Washington. The Cabinet said Israel will not be the victim of power politics and will reject any attempt to impose a settlement on it.

Mrs. Meir, in an interview with the New York Times after the cabinet session, said the U.S. government was asking Israel "to start all over again, as though it were 1948."

"I don't think it's Israel's, the U.S. proposals develop and train their own

Action on Two Bills Lifts Barriers to Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last serious barriers to congressional adjournment today were cleared away with passage of the massive tax reform bill and Senate surrender on President Nixon's plan to open up more construction jobs to blacks.

With these matters taken care of Monday, the House marked time before today's expected midafternoon adjournment, while the Senate faced its last bit of routine business—extending regulations governing trade with some Communist nations.

The major congressional handiwork of 1969, the giant tax cut and reform bill, already is on its way to the White House and a top Senate Republican said there is no doubt President Nixon will sign it into law.

The tax bill swept through the Senate Monday, 71-6, after clearing the House 381-2. Ultimately, it will provide $9.1 billion in tax cuts, offset by $5.5 billion in revenue to be raised by the reform provisions.

But a lesser measure, a normally routine $78 million appropriation bill for an assortment of federal agencies, produced a civil rights controversy which kept the Senate working late Monday amid maneuver and controversy.

At issue was congressional clearance of the administration's Philadelphia plan designed to promote employment of Negroes on federally-financed construction projects.

A Senate amendment tacked on to the catch-all appropriation bill would have barred continuation of that program; Nixon termed it unconstitutional and threatened a veto.

The House voted 206-156 to strike the amendment from the bill, and the Senate, weary and ready to quit, finally yielded, too.

The roll call vote was 39-29 to go along with the House and clear the way for a Christmas holiday.

The appropriations involved were minor, but the bill carried another amendment crucial to the fragile framework with which Congress arranged to end the longest session in six years. That one provides authority for continued spending by government agencies which have not yet received their regular appropriations for the fiscal year which began last July 1.

issue would have killed the spending authority, too, and three major government agencies could not meet their payrolls without it.

The appropriations involved are for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Department of Labor and the foreign aid program. Earlier disputes sidetracked their funds until Congress returns to work.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the $19.9 billion appropriation for health, education and labor programs—which Nixon has threatened to veto also because it exceeds his budget—will be the first order of business when the 91st Congress begins its second session Jan. 19.

Senate manpower was dwindling as the recess neared: 73 members were on hand for what was the final roll call Monday night.

Vice President Spiro T.

Agnew made a late evening trip to the Capitol to preside, presumably in case of a tie vote, which he could have broken in favor of the administration.

The measure involved both civil rights and congressional prerogatives to oversee federal spending.

The job system is called the Philadelphia plan, and under it, federal contractors agree to provide a prescribed share of construction jobs to Negroes and other minority Americans.

Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats, responsible to Congress for supervision of spending, has ruled this an illegal quota system. Atty. Gen. Aohn N. Mitchell, who works for the administration, has held it a proper use of goals for minority employment.

The amendment would have barred spending on contracts which the comptroller general holds to be illegal.

The Senate retreat means the courts eventually will decide the dispute—but it also means the administration can continue operation of the minority employment system on 14 projects now underway, most of them in the Philadelphia area.

The massive tax bill—which Nixon has not personally said he will sign—offers the second largest income tax reduction in history, and provides a 15 percent increase in Social Security benefits.

The government estimates it will put some $5.8 billion in additional revenues into the Treasury during the next 18 months, but as it becomes fully effective, over four years, tax reductions will overtake and pass the revenue producing reform provisions.

Snow Remains in Missouri

KANSAS CITY AP — A four-inch layer of snow was on the ground in parts of Missouri today and the forecast held out a chance for a little more snow late Wednesday in the Northwest.

Temperatures were expected to drop tonight into the upper teens in the north to the mid 20s in the south. Skies were expected to clear tonight but be partly cloudy Wednesday.

Wednesday temperatures are forecast for the 30s.

Most of the snow cover was in the northeast, central and east central parts of the state.

There was four inches of snow at Edina, Hannibal, Kirksville and St. Louis. Cape Girardeau in the southeast had two inches and in other areas there were two inches at Louisiana, Columbia and Hermann and an inch at Union, Valley Park and suburban Kansas City in north and urban areas.

The snow and ice made for hazardous driving in many areas in northern and north central Missouri but the highway patrol said all roads in the south part of the state were normal.

Agnew Trip Designed to Give Him Knowledge of Asia

WASHINGTON AP — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's 10-day, 37,000-mile trip includes stops in three countries - the Philippines, Thailand and Formosa - that have been targets of recent attacks in the Senate.

Agnew also has expressed hope to going to Vietnam, although it is not listed on the itinerary and aides said no visit is planned. The trip, Agnew's first abroad as vice president, is designed to give him first-hand knowledge of Asia.

The vice president will be meeting with top officials of the nations he visits and is likely to run into reaction to Senate attacks on military aid to some Asian nations.

In the Philippines, where Agnew is to attend the Dec. 30 inauguration of President Ferdinand E. Marcos, there was strong criticism of a charge by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., that the United States had paid $45 million in equipment and allowances in return for sending troops to Vietnam.

The Philippine government denied the charge, contained in a transcript which was held up by the State Department here until after the country's elections last month.

Formosa, Agnew's next stop, was the target of the Senate just last week when it rejected the $1.8 billion foreign aid money bill rather than agree to supply the government of Chiang Kai-shek some $54.5 million to buy additional jet fighters.

Agnew will be accompanied on the trip by his wife and Apollo 10 astronauts, Eugene Cernan, who will go as far as Bangkok, and Thomas Stafford, who will go the rest of the way.

From Taipei, Agnew is scheduled to go to Thailand.

Congressional sources charged recently the United States paid the Thais some $1 billion in return for its dispatch of troops to Vietnam. Both the State Department and the Thai government denied the charges.

A number of Senate critics of the Vietnam war fear U.S. military aid to Thailand and neighboring Laos could result in the United States being dragged into another Vietnam there.

As a result, the Senate voted last week to ban dispatch of American combat troops to the two countries without specific prior congressional approval.

Later in his trip, Agnew visits Australia and New Zealand, countries which were targets of the abortive Senate move to give the President standby authority to impose import quotas. Meat imports from the two countries have been among the main targets of congressional efforts to tighten quotas.

Agnew will be accompanied on the trip by his wife and Apollo 10 astronauts, Eugene Cernan, who will go as far as Bangkok, and Thomas Stafford, who will go the rest of the way.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS! REAP THE WHIRLWIND

Victor Riesel is one of the nation's most knowledgeable reporters on the labor scene. There is little that this newsmen does not know about the field of his specialty.

We noted with interest, and some mixed emotions, his column reporting the threat of a boycott of Swedish shipping by the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA). Our first reaction was one of sadness that the relations between Americans and Swedes have so deteriorated. There was a time when we were quite close to the Scandinavian country. But with the rapid movement toward the extreme Left by the Swedish government, our ways have parted.

Our second emotion is one of pride in the rugged men of the waterfront. Over the years the Longshoremen have been painted in dark hues. They are presented as caricatures of the Neanderthal - brutish hulks with bulging muscles, but nothing in the way of brainpower. This image is as unfair as it is untrue.

Our pride is in the fact that the proposed boycott is a protest against the financial aid by Sweden to the Communist dictatorship of North Vietnam. The aid is to be in the form of donations of money and extensions of credit to the North Vietnamese. Of course it is the right of the government of Sweden to give help to anybody they choose. But it is also the right of ILA members to refuse to handle the cargo of Swedish products, if the aid is extended. Mr. Riesel states: "They (the ILA) now believe the International Longshoremen are morally and ethically free to boycott Swedish freighters, cruise ships, Volvos, Saabs and any other products from that nation."

"It is my belief such action would have the tacit support of the President of the U. S. and the president of the AFL-CIO. This could cost Sweden scores of millions of dollars in small car sales here. It could also cripple its merchant fleet profits since the U. S. is its biggest marine service customer."

We might add that it will also show Hanoi and the world that there are other "demonstrators" in the United States, who believe in giving support, aid and comfort to our allies and fighting men in Vietnam, and not to the enemy.

The Kansas City Times says in a headline that "Hearnes veto Irka Danforth," well if it was as misinformed as Danforth seems to be and I had political ambitions I don't know anyone better to be continuously irked at than the Governor. There is not a thing to be gained by jumping on the top waters.

One of the things that makes us think that the United Fund in St. Louis did the right thing is cutting off the funds for the Legend and Society of St. Louis and St. Louis County is the fact that the Post Dispatch thinks they did wrong.

Frank Ferrell contends that if gentlemen really preferred blondes there wouldn't be a brunette in six weeks.

When President - elect Nixon introduced his cabinet on television just a year ago -- on Dec. 11, 1968 -- he described John N. Mitchell, the Attorney General - designate, as "a man who is as devoted as I am .. to waging an effective war against crime." Twelve months later that war appears to be a rather tepid one. Congress has been dragging its feet, and so has the White House.

The crime problem is perhaps best exemplified by the nation's capital, the District of Columbia. The Nixon "model anticrime program" for Washington did not reach Capitol Hill until July 11. Not a single part of the package is likely to clear the Congress at this session. And White House pressure has been mild to say the least. But on Dec. 4, the President expressed concern to congressional leaders about lack of action on organized crime.

Five months ago the President sent to the Hill a series of bills which Attorney General Mitchell described as reflecting the administration's "firm, evenhanded" approach to crime control. The package included a bill to amend the Bail Reform Act of 1966 to permit a judge to set strict conditions of release or to detain a criminal suspect in noncapital cases -- the so - called preventive detention provision.

Another measure would reorganize the court system of the District of Columbia, consolidating into a single -- the Superior -- court the Court of General Sessions, the Juvenile Court, and the District Tax Court. Still another would convert the Legal Aid Agency of the District into a Public Defender Service.

A new juvenile code is proposed in another bill. This is a companion bill to the court reorganization bill, which was passed by the Senate on Sept. 18. The court organization bill was split in two by the Senate District Committee, headed by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings (D Md.). The second part includes amendments in procedure to allow nighttime searches by officials with warrant and a "no - knock" provision to allow officials to enter premises to be searched without first announcing themselves. The committee has reported this bill as well as the public defender measure.

The preventive detention bill is strongly opposed by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D N.C.), chairman of the subcommittee on constitutional rights, as a "repudiation of centuries of Anglo - American traditions of fairness, due process, and common standards of justice."

President Nixon on Oct. 9 conceded that the crime situation in the nation's capital had reached the crisis point. But crime in the nation's capital, noted the President, "Has run through all administrations."

District police on Nov. 26 announced that serious crime in Washington, D.C., during October was up 35.4 per cent over that of October 1968. Only in auto theft was there a reduction in the crime rate. In the year ended Sept. 30 there were 11, 645 robberies in the District, up 59 per cent over the preceding year. U. S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT observes: "Downtown Washington at night is almost deserted ... Store clerks, filling - station attendants and delivery men work in constant fear. Many keep guns at hand .. Burglaries in the year ended Sept. 30 totaled 20,968 -- up 20 per cent over the previous year."

The District has the highest rate of robberies and burglaries of all American cities of comparable size. It ranks seventh in forcible rapes. And yet it has the highest per capita income and lowest unemployment rate of any major city.

Ben Franklin said it: "Men and Melons are hard to know."

MICROWAVES OF THE FUTURE?

Microwave Communication Inc. is an audacious David that has stung, though hardly stunned, the Goliath AT&T in a legal round this year before the Federal Communications Commission. The FCC last August unexpectedly told MCI that it could build a chain of microwave relay stations between Chicago and St. Louis -- in direct competition with existing long lines of American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

MCI since has returned to the commission with a series of proposals to link 63 metropolitan areas from coast to coast with a microwave network and provide, among other things, a hookup for 48 separate educational television stations. Bernard Strassburg, chief of the FCC's Common Carrier Bureau, has scheduled a meeting of "interested parties" in Washington on Thursday, Dec. 18, to discuss the proposals. Since microwaves are wireless line - of - sight signals that do not bend around the contours of the earth, relay stations are needed about every 30 miles. MCI contends that it can build them cheaper than AT&T can string wires -- and thus offer a variety of business customers low - cost voice and data transmission.

In a 4 to 3 decision, the FCC offered to give the Chicago - St. Louis microwave plan a trial. BUSINESS WEEK suggested soon afterward (Sept. 6, 1969) that the vote might have been different had not the Antitrust Division of the Justice Department been a participant. The decision opens many questions besides that of monopoly. Nicholas Johnson, a commissioner who voted with the majority, has said that no one in government seems to have the vaguest sort of master plan for the communication explosion that lies ahead.

A release from Nation's Business observes, "Leaders of state legislatures, by a margin of 6 to 1, think the present method of electing the President of the United States should be abandoned in favor of a new system. And of those favoring change, two thirds think the country should choose its Chief Executive by direct popular vote."

Beginner's Luck. In Detroit, a jury awarded $3,500 damages and $3,645 for expenses and doctor bills to Mrs. Theresa Schnepf, 54, who broke her arm while taking a lesson in jitterbug dancing.

Which recalls an anecdote about President Calvin Coolidge, who, upon returning from church, was asked "what was the preacher's sermon subject?" "Sin," replied the president most economical with words.

"What did the preacher say about sin?" asked the friend.

"He was against it," replied Silent Cal.

DES MOINES (AP) -- It only took us two winters, but we finally found out what lowans do when the frost gets on the pumpkins and harvest time is over.

Our first winter in the Hawkeye State last year found us generally wrapped up in a blanket huddling around the fire place and brooding about what someone had against us by shipping us from Florida to Iowa in November.

Not so this winter. We've found a salvation -- one that sends you out to cool off in cool weather. It's called hockey.

The team is called the Des Moines Oak Leafs, but they actually play in Urbandale, a suburb of Des Moines.

If that doesn't confuse you, the game will. The closest we had ever come to a hockey game was battling a beer can around a lake when we were in school in Missouri.

Our hockey career ended abruptly when we hit a patch of thin ice and fell in.

That first night, the most we learned about the game is that icing is something besides what comes on cakes and a face off isn't necessarily what you have with the frau when you come tiptoeing in loaded with martinis.

More interesting than the game were the fans. Girls in mini-skirts and goose-pimpled legs, farmers in overalls, outdoorsmen in hunting jackets -- fans just about every shape and size in the book.

But, they all had one thing in common. They could make a lot of noise, and it was evident that the Oak Leafs were their team.

Now, the Oak Leafs aren't what you'd call the top of the professional hockey stack -- in fact, they're in the International Hockey League, just one or two jumps out of the amateur ranks.

But to Oak Leafs fans they're No. 1, win or lose. To protect yourself, there are a couple of basic rules to remember.

When the guys in the green and white uniforms get clustered around that well padded fellow at the other end in a different color outfit, you jump up and yell your fool head off.

When you jump up and yell your fool head off, make sure you don't step on the cup of beer sitting under the seat next to you, or you don't empty yours down the back of the guy in front of you.

In reality, it's a crowd participation game. In a town where you couldn't draw a crowd of 300 people if you were giving away $1 bills, they pack 4,500 spectators into an ice arena with a seating capacity of 4,000.

When one person jumps up to yell, the whole crowd has to. It's like a can of sardines cheering on their favorite shark.

They even have two Urbandale policemen to guard the penalty box. As one of them put it: "The fans around here get so excited they jump out of the stands and pour beer on the players in the penalty box." And, the games' most consistent fan is a slightly blind, mild, dental technician named Randy Boyd.

Randy spends all day building false teeth, but when the Oak Leafs are home the nights become a second heaven.

Equipped with a battered bugle --I got for something like $13.95--he wandered into the arena three years ago and blew "charge" as the Oak Leafs were about to make a big play.

He's been there every night since, and "they even give me a season pass now." His only two bugle calls are "Charge" and "Taps," the latter reserved for the final minute when the home team wins and the fans shout the visitors off the ice.

Many holiday parties will be held from now until the first of next year. With this in mind, Colonel E.L. (Mike) Hockaday, the Superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, reminded drivers of the dangers of driving after drinking.

"A drinking driver is not a clear-thinking driver," Hockaday noted. "Alcohol dulls a person's senses and deadens restraints that usually govern one's behavior. In short, liquor influences a person to take chances and do things he normally wouldn't do. Such a careless attitude behind the wheel of a car can set the stage for an accident."

The Patrol Superintendent stated that studies show that drinking is involved in more than half of all fatal traffic accidents. These estimates involve no special time of the year; so during this holiday season of parties and celebrations, the implications are even more frightening.

"If the holidays are to be kept from being disastrous for many people in Missouri, care and common sense will have to replace the usual holiday carelessness," the Colonel continued. "A good idea to employ if you are going to drink at a party is to take a taxi or have a friend who does not drink provide your transportation. This precaution will better assure you of a safe trip home."

Colonel Hockaday also noted that the drinking driver faces the danger of losing his privilege to drive. He pointed out that a person arrested and convicted of driving while intoxicated stands to have his license to drive revoked.

Then there was the irate husband who had the nerve to call his wife an "out and out liar."

Asked his friend, "Why would you say a thing like that about your wife?"

"Because she said she was with her sister, Bess, last night."

"So? You don't have any proof that she wasn't?"

"Yes I do. I was with Bess last night!"

"You mean to say that you're engaged to five different boys at once?"

"Yeah, I can hardly wait until after Christmas to straighten things out."

A proposal has been advanced in Congress to preserve Georgia's Okefenokee Swamp as a national wilderness. A bill to accomplish this was introduced by Rep. W. S. Stuckey, Jr. (D-Ga.) The truck fleet owner was planning an extensive trip to Italy and the travel agent called to advise that it was necessary to send a $50 deposit for his hotel reservations in Venice and Rome.

A few minutes later, she called back, but the fleet owner was on another phone, so she asked his secretary to give him the following message, which the secretary did -- in a strained tone of voice: "Mr. Simpson will know what I mean. Just tell him it will cost $20 more for Florence."

WORLD WONDERS THAT WERE

Funny thing, but ever since the Army's Corps of Engineers cut the American side of Niagara Falls down to a trickle in order to study its crumbling rock structure, sightseers have been more numerous than ever.

This may be the answer to conservationists who warn of what will happen when the population reaches its third hundred million (as it will in a short 30 years) -- the overtaxed park and recreation facilities, the crowds, crowds, crowds at every natural wonder.

Natural wonders - who needs them? As Niagara non-Falls shows, nonwonders are just as good. We can hear 21st century guides telling enthralled groups of tourists:

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON -- Senator Tom Dodd has been secretly gathering evidence for explosive hearings about prison horrors in 15 states.

In the last few weeks, reports have reached this column from various states of calls and visits by his investigators to prison experts, ex - convicts and law enforcement officers.

Dodd apparently has selected Ohio, California and Florida for exposure of prison atrocities. He may also put the Senate spotlight on Louisiana and Indiana.

Although he has found brutality in almost every one of the 50 states, say insiders, he plans to confine his hearings to 15 states.

Among the stories his agents have verified are shackling of inmates in Louisiana, jailhouse beatings of youngsters in California, pressing of Ohio inmates for days between steel doors, and the clubbing to death of a young prisoner in Florida.

The Ohio torture was described in a series of hearings this spring by Dr. Sam Sheppard, convicted and cleared of wife murder. Ohio officials sneered at it, but Dodd's men have documented its truth.

SMUGGLED LETTERS-- In several states, Dodd has been pressured to back off from his probe, but witnesses have already been approached and tentatively invited to testify. Letters have also been smuggled from prisoners to Dodd offering testimony on sickening perversion and brutality within state prison systems.

Convicts, some famous for crimes they would like to forget now, have offered to come forward. Conscientious prison officials have also told Dodd's men they will risk their jobs to expose prison abuses.

Out of these hearings and those last spring, the Senate's most detailed record in history is emerging: of prison torture, despair and waste. Tom Dodd should be commended for caring about these froggott men -- the Secretary told his luncheon guests that he hoped to combine all federal functions, having to do with the environment, into a single new Department of Natural Resources and Environment.

When he proposed this idea to President Nixon, Hickel said, the President "came right out of his chair and said, 'That's the direction we will go.'"

Moss reminded the Secretary that he had introduced the same idea as a Senate bill five years ago but that the affected government agencies had resisted the reorganization.

UDALL WOULDN'T FIGHT-- Referring to Hickel's predecessor, Moss grumped: "Stew Udall put his tail between his legs and refused to fight."

Hickel also complained to the committee about the problem of acquiring land for national parks. The parks are authorized, complete with boundaries, before the money is appropriated to buy the land. Result: the land prices immediately skyrocket.

At the time Point Reyes, Calif., was authorized as a national park, he pointed out, the needed land was worth $14 million. Once the word got out that the government wanted the land, of course, the prices doubled, then doubled again.

The taxpayers are now shelling out $38 million for land acquisition at Point Reyes, Hickel said, and the total cost will reach an estimated $57 million.

He suggested that a standing fund should be available so park land could be purchased at the time of its authorization.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-NeV., said nothing was more important, in his opinion, than parks for outdoor recreation. These should be available near the cities, he said, to offer an outlet for youth gangs.

Hickel agreed there was a "great need for more parks and 'populous areas' and promised to provide more recreation areas easily accessible to the big cities.

"On the site of this housing development stood the last redwood trees, the kind pictured in the booklet given you" ... "Beneath the waters of this huge lake, which serves the needs of Arizona's 20 million citizens, are the sheer walls of the world's deepest canyon, once called Grand" ... "Yes, folks, Mammoth Cave is well-named. We can't go in, of course, but it's estimated it can store all the obsolete nerve gas the United States will manufacture for the next 100 years" ...

Somehow, we liked Niagara Falls better when it was running.

JUST THE BEGINNING:
Governors, U.S. Senators Silent, Inactive While Mafia's Political Power Rockets in Home State

Newark, N.J.: -- This may be a slight case of political murder. But never has politico - cide been more justified.

Here in the center of the most concentrated Mafia jungle, in the nation's most corrupt state, dominated by a lethal Cosa Nostra, led by dons living as suburban squires, we the people are told by the state's liberal leaders that the whole thing is exaggerated.

This is a state which for years has been led by the progressive Gov. Richard Hughes and the avant - garde Senators Harrison Williams and Clifford Case. It is the 50 - year - old Harrison Williams, whose interest in the underground mostly is among the coaliggers, who says bluntly it is exaggerated. It is Clifford Case, a gentle fellow, who says nothing. And it is Richard Hughes who looks startled and asks how long has this horrid thing been going on?

Well, it's been going on for a long time and if these honorable gentlemen have been unaware of who has been getting out the vote, and who has been a power in the state legislature, and who has turned out some of those instant - campaign caravans and cheering fund - raising banquet guests, they should defect from politics -- especially from national lawmaking.

How could anyone not have known that Murder, Inc.'s executioner Albert Anastasia lived in that Cliffside mansion over at Fort Lee?

How could anyone in politics not have known that the Kefauver Senate Investigating Committee once asked the Executioner if he had murdered 35 men -- and that he asked to see the committee's records before he incriminated himself?

How could anyone in high places, with access to intelligence files and FBI cooperation -- always available to a senator or governor -- not have known that this reputed killer was an intimate of the cultured Abner (Longy) Zwillman, a crime syndicate financier and multimillionaire, alleged friend of Meyer Lansky, realtor and alleged braintrust of an intricately interwoven network of mob operations?

How could anyone in high office not have known of Longy's political power, and of his nationally influential friends, and of his ability to reach into White House circles over the decades until he "hung himself" some 10 years ago? And I don't refer here to the Eisenhower presidential years.

How could anyone in New Jersey politics, which influenced the Washington power structure in the '30s and '40s, not have known of the Anastasia - Zwillman relationship with the Vito Genovese borgata? They were friends, until they left this earth precipitously, of "Mr. A." Joe Adonis now living in delightful Milanese exile. They socialized with Charles (Lucky) Luciano until he died, also in luxurious exile. They were their own law. And they knew the men who said, "I am the law."

Now we're getting into big money. Millions on millions of it.

And they knew Gerardo (Jerry) Catena, the Genovese underboss. This made quite a social set. Don't underestimate apathetic in allowing the ugly wrongs of collectivis, communism to destroy, temporarily, truth and beauty. Patriots have awakened many of the apathetic and uninformed in our land who have now vowed that truth and beauty will not be destroyed, even temporarily, in this great land.

When the news and entertainment media recognize the full beauty of freedom and stress the successes of creative activity, rather than the failures caused by crime, inflation and collectivism, the battle will be won for the foreseeable future.

Love of freedom is the extreme opposity of bitterness and hate. Those who enjoy freedom and understand its beauty can have no envy or hate for those who are too ignorant or apathetic to match freedom's achievements. Love of freedom means the highest respect for your fellowman and for his efforts to make good in the world in the kind of life and labor he chooses for himself, rather than what a communist party elite may choose for him.

Only those who do not understand or appreciate freedom and the plenty it brings can hate those who possess the beauty of freedom. The evil envy of those who hate freedom would destroy liberty for everyone instead of building liberty for themselves.

it. You see, there is no wiretrap law in New Jersey. So the boys would call freely and talk freely knowing the evidence could not be used against them as it could in New York State -- but in New York State wiretapping is legal and you would be surprised how these Mafiai or some of their buttonmen would call.

How could anyone claiming to be representative of all the people -- people who have been mulcted of hard - earned money which paid for bad food placed in big stores by Mafia muscle men, people whose taxes went by the tens of millions of dollars for extra heavy construction costs rocketed by extortionists from controlled unions -- how could those highly placed fellows not have known of these combines? How could they not have known that Zwillman, Anastasia, Jerry Catena and Mafia merchant prince named Ruggiero (Ritchie the Boot) Boiaro used to dine regularly in a restaurant on New Jersey Route 29?

And how could anyone interested in their state not have known, or read of later, that Ritchie the Boot is the father of Anthony (Tony Boy) Boiaro? And they are linked to the Valentine Electric Co. which has done millions of dollars worth of construction work for the state and city and federal government.

And how could anyone in Jersey politics not have known that Tony Boy and Hugh J. Addonizio, mayor of Newark, a dying riot - gutted city, were friends?

Now both Tony Boy, reputedly a member of the Mafia, and Mayor Addonizio have been indicted along with others on charges including payoff extortions totaling $253,000, conspiracy and income tax fraud.

Yet the county prosecutors in this state were appointed by Gov. Hughes. Yet, both senators, who always ride swiftly to the attack on other social fronts, have been eerily silent on this one.

Yet, their silence is ear bursting when one reads of the warnings by the courageous former New York City Police Dept. Mafia Desk supervising detective Ralph Salerno; and by Prof. Robert Blakey, now with the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on Law and Procedure (headed by Sen. McClellan); and by Prof. Henry Ruth Jr. of the University of Pa. Law School that this is the nation's most corrupt state.

But this is not a state problem. The Jersey mobs are tied into the New York combines, the Pennsylvania operations, and run right out west.

This is but the beginning. I'm told by the crusading 35 - year - old Justice Dept.'s anticrime strike force chief John Bartels Jr. who just won't say what comes next.

Soon these anticrime strike forces will spread across the land. On Jan. 5, the Los Angeles coordinated group will get two weeks of orientation. Then they start in California with subheadquarters in San Francisco. Thus from coast to coast, it is "just the beginning," when it should be the end.

Why have liberal and progressive leaders here, in Illinois, and in any state you can mention been silent?

Crusades should begin at home!

'No' to Illegal Abortion, but Strong 'Yes' to Amended Laws

Dear Ann Landers: I was shocked by your seeming approval of legal abortions. Have you taken leave of your senses? Don't you realize millions of people look to you for moral guidance? Our priest has, on occasion, used your column as a basis for his sermons. I am happy he was in Rome when that particular column appeared. He would have been very disappointed.

These are trying times in which to keep one's values straight. People need something to cling to. You have always been a staunch supporter of old-fashioned morality. What happened? Please don't shake our faith by coming out for something that is against our religion. There are over 46 million Catholics in this country and we believe abortion is murder. We count on you. Don't let us down. —A Mother in Massachusetts

Dear Mother: I would not recommend abortion for a devout Catholic — for that matter, anyone whose religion teaches that abortion is murder. For women who believe this, the guilt resulting from an abortion could produce serious emotional problems.

As many Catholic theologians agree, religious law should not be the basis for civil law. There are millions of women who do NOT view abortion as murder and these women should not be subjected to backroom, kitchen-table butchery. Thousands of married women as well as single girls die every year because the law has driven them to attic hideouts and motel room surgery.

I hope you will read the next letter. It represents another point of view:

Dear Ann Landers: I'm glad you had the courage to come out and say the abortion laws are unjust, archaic and should be sharply amended. I had an abortion two days ago so I speak from experience. Fortunately I live in Kansas where therapeutic abortions are legal. In this state, if two physicians sign a statement saying the birth of a child would be detrimental to a woman's physical or mental health, she can be aborted in a hospital. The price is $500. It is painless and safe.

Many of your readers will probably wonder about the details of my particular case — whether I am married or single, a teen-ager or a career girl. Was the father of my child a married man or a lover who would have married me had I been willing? The details, I believe, are irrelevant. What matters is that I was able legally and safely to terminate an unwanted pregnancy. Every woman should have the choice, and it shouldn't cost $500. —Lawrence, Kansas

Dear Lawrence: Hooray for Kansas! And you can add Colorado and a few others. At this writing, at least a dozen states are in the process of trying to liberalize their laws on abortion and I say the revision is long overdue. I believe that no woman, married or single, should be forced by the government to have a child she does not want if her physician decides he can safely terminate the pregnancy.

I want to make it clear that I am not encouraging illegal abortion. What is needed is

Coconuts For Christmas

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Ed Clinch received his annual coconut Friday, just as he has every Christmas season for the past 21 years.

Each year the coconut arrives in some unconventional manner, and this year was no exception. It was delivered by a Peoria zoo attendant riding a Sicilian donkey.

One year the sheriff brought it, another year a skydiver dropped in with it and once it was delivered by ambulance.

Clinch says he has no idea who sends the coconuts, though he suspects it may be some old Army buddy from World War II.

reform of existing laws. I support the conclusion of the Group For Advancement of Psychiatry that abortion, when performed by a licensed physician should be entirely removed from the domain of criminal law.

Woman Driver

SEABROOK, N. H. (AP) — An unidentified lady school bus driver threw about 30 students off her bus Friday for pelting her with peanuts.

Officials of the bus company said the driver was harassed by flying peanuts for four miles during the morning trip and she finally stopped the bus and gave the exit command.

Some parents called and complained because their children — all attending increased by $1.4 million funds Winnacunnet Cooperative High School at Hampton Beach — had administration's budget for all to hike home in 28-degree weather. Others called their parents and were driven home.

The bus company owner, Shaun Berry of Northampton, said he would move the lady driver to another route.

Mothers of Mongoloid Children

For Appeal To Private Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — An organization of mothers of Mongoloid children plans an appeal for private money if Congress' fiscal ax cuts off federal funds for a promising research program against Mongolism.

The research program is reported to be the only one of its type still in existence in the United States and is aimed at determining whether a still-experimental drug can improve the serious mental retardation of Mongoloids.

The mothers' organization, a Washington-area group called "Mothers of Young Mongoloids," recently mounted a national letter-writing campaign protesting what it said was a threat to the program because of proposed cuts in appropriations for the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness.

Mrs. Donald G. Wyman of Alexandria, Va., a spokesman for the organization of 56 mothers, said in an interview her organization was encouraged earlier this week when a Senate appropriations subcommittee increased by $1.4 million funds recommended by the Nixon administration's budget for all to hike home in 28-degree weather. Others called their parents and were driven home.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., singled out the project for special praise in its report. But Mrs. Wyman said she feared for the program because of reports President Nixon plans to veto the new appropriations bill, including appropriations for all the National Institutes of Health, if it passed Congress in its present form.

She said the experimental drug — designed to duplicate a natural chemical deficient in the brains of Mongoloids — already has resulted in definite improvement in muscle tone and coordination among children treated by Dr. Coleman, but that "the I.Q. (intelligence quotient) results are inconclusive as yet." Mrs. Wyman said that, largely as a result of an Associated Press story Oct. 15 describing the launching of the letter-writing campaign, approximately 4,000 letters were sent to Magnuson's office urging his subcommittee to approve funds for the program.

A spokesman for Magnuson confirmed that a "tremendous number" of letters had come in, mostly from one part of the country.

Pockets not bulging with money to spare

SHS Freshman Lose, 44-42

POPLAR BLUFF — Despite outstanding performances by Sikeston's Pope Hunt and Bill Green, the Poplar Bluff freshman Mules won their second game of the season from the Bulldogs, 44-42.

Hunt scored 14 points in a 20 point first half, netting all eight in the first period and ended the game with 16 markers while Green hit 12 of his 14 in the second, netting all six in the final period as the Dogs bid for their first win of the season to only settle for their third setback.

Sikeston's downfall could be attributed to its poor free throw shooting as it netted only four of 16 and out-hit the host from the field 19-18. The host however did little better from the charity post, sinking only eight of 17.

J. B. Hayes ripped in 17 points while his backcourt mate, Ben Holt added 10 for the Mules top efforts.

The SHS freshman will host Kennett Jan. 10 in its next game.

Scoring:

POPLAR BLUFF (44)

Lock 4, Harkey 8, Harget 5, Hayes 17, Gray 0, Ben Holt 10. TEAM TOTALS: FG-18; FT-8; PF-12.

SIKESTON (12)

Colwick 4, Hunt 16, Walker 6, Green 14, Keller 2, Collins 0. TEAM TOTALS: FG-19; FT-4; PF-13.

PARMA BABE RUTH league award winners are from left: Reggie Gregory who led Parma in RBIs this past season; Wendall Wagner who led the team in hitting and was voted the most outstanding player by his mates; Mike Garrard who was the strikeout king for the season and Mike Shain, who spoke at the banquet and who was awarded an honorary Strikeout King trophy. Parma's Baby Ruth team ended its season with a 36-14 record and first place finish in the Four-County League, first place in the New Madrid county tournament, third place finish in the Sikeston invitational and was awarded the sportsmanship trophy at its own invitational.

Goose Picture Cloudy

JEFFERSON CITY — Predicting wildlife trends is only slightly less hazardous than playing Russian Roulette because things that fly, swim and run have a way of beating the odds.

But if young - adult ratios mean anything (and they do), Missouri's goose hunters may be facing a drab season a few years from now.

First of all, the young - adult ratio is the ratio between young birds shot by hunters to adult birds taken. A very high ratio would be three young to one adult, since young birds make up the bulk of every migration.

This year at Swan Lake-Fountain Grove, the November ratio was one young bird to one adult. This low ratio has held all season and indicates a poor hatch last spring of the Missouri birds.

A Department of Conservation biologist was in Canada during the nesting season and saw the Missouri flock's nesting grounds get hit by a heavy snowstorm which played havoc with the flock.

Geese which migrate through Missouri with Swan Lake as the principal stopping point are the Eastern Prairie Population. Yet only a few miles away, in the big Illinois refuges at Crab Orchard,

PRAY TO WIN

PORT ELIZABETH, South

Africa (AP) — South Africans have always admitted rugby, the national sport, is almost a national religion. Lately, school teams in the outback Karoo region of Cape

Province have taken to praying before they start their games. In a letter to a local newspaper, a commercial traveller said he first noted this when he saw one plat-land (rural) fifteen going into a huddle before the match. He saw their lips moving and asked what was going on. "We are praying for victory," the captain replied. "We also find that when we pray before a match it becomes a better game and there is never any fighting."

Horseshoe Lake and Union, the geese belong to the Mississippi Valley Population.

The Illinois birds nest on a different part of massive

Hudson Bay and had a good nesting spring. The pinch, if there is one, for Missouri won't come for at least three years.

The majority of Canada geese breed in their third year, so this year's hatch will start production in three years. If this is a low hatch, then there logically will be fewer parent birds in three years.

"We're concerned about this,

we sure are," says Mike

Milonski, superintendent of game management for the Department. Of course there always is the possibility that the next spring or two could produce record hatches which would compensate for a low hatch three years from now.

Further complicating the picture is the increase in hunting pressure from Iowa, Minnesota, and Manitoba, the two states and the Prairie Province which entertain the Eastern Prairie flock before Missouri does.

Anticipating future hunting pressure, game managers this year started planning to increase the overall flock. Missouri agreed to a harvest cut from 25,000 birds to 20,000 at Swan Lake.

Iowa and Minnesota agreed to start their seasons later. But as it turned out, the geese migrated late enough that virtually none migrated through those states before the shooting started.

Milonski thinks the 1969

season has been a good one.

"There have been birds in the air

most of the time all season," Milonski said. "A lot of hunters have had a chance to get out and get their geese. Some days you go out and maybe see only one bird all day, but this season hasn't been that way. There've been a lot of birds flying."

WHAT'S in the future for this goose--and for Missouri goose hunters? Evidence is that there was a poor 1969 Canada goose hatch in the goose population which migrates through Missouri. But the effects, if any, won't be felt for some time. (Dept. of Conservation photo).

Prep Poll Takes On New Look

They new teams were added to this week's Daily Standard basketball poll as selected by the 14-member coaches panel during the weekend while New Madrid and Malden remained one, two in the final poll for 1969. The next ratings will be released on January 6, 1970.

Dexter, Chaffee and Matthews moved into this week's top ten after making earlier appearances in the ratings. The trio replaces Puxico, Woodland and Richland who failed to draw enough votes to maintain their seventh, ninth and 10th place positions of last week.

Besides the three new teams and the two top, the remaining five made some kind of switch as the poll took on a new look going into a new year.

Delta and Poplar Bluff moved up one place as Advance tumbled from third to fifth while Charleston made the only advance from last week, jumping from eighth to sixth while last week's sixth ranked Delta C-7 Chargers fell to ninth.

New Madrid, Poplar Bluff and Delta C-7 will be idle until the new year while all other poll members are entered in one of the two area Holiday tournaments that get underway Friday.

Third rated Delta is top seeded for the Cape Girardeau 16-team affair while sixth ranked

Charleston, and eighth rated Chaffee are entered in the meet.

At Bloomfield, fifth rated Advance was top seeded over second ranked Malden while seventh rated Dexter and 10th ranked Matthews will add competition to the 16-team battle.

Also adding to this final poll of 1969 is the names of Risco and East Prairie, who receive votes for the first time over five years.

THE TOP TEN with first place votes in parenthesis, records and total points at right:

(1) New Madrid (6)11-0 129
(2) Malden (4) 7-0 115
(3) Delta (3) 10-0 96
(4) Poplar Bluff (1)6-1 86

(7) Dexter 5-9 39
(8) Chaffee 5-3 38
(9) Delta C-7 9-1 20
(10) Matthews 7-3 14

OTHERS with votes, not necessarily in order of number of votes received: Risco; Hayti North; Parma; East Prairie; Cape Central; Oak Ridge; Puxico; Woodland; Richland; Scott Central; Neelyville and Bernie.

Smoke Fatal To Uncle of Steve Lacy

ST. LOUIS — Smoke inhalation in an apartment fire caused the death of Eugene Lacy, 46, in charge of display advertising for the Brown Shoe company, Friday morning. He is an uncle of Steve Lacy, director of social services, at the Sikeston Regional diagnostic clinic.

He was asleep in his second floor apartment in the 16-apartment building. The blaze started on the first floor, where the greater part of the damage was done, but smoke reached other floors.

Other survivors are his father, Claude Lacy, Owensville, and one brother, Claude Lacy Jr., Kirkwood.

Services were Tuesday in Owensville. Burial was in the Owensville cemetery.

Father Reprimands

Poet Son for Urging

Legalization of Drugs

MIAMI (AP) — Louis Ginsberg publicly showed his stern parent side Sunday when he turned to blue-janed, bearded son Allen, pointed his finger and told him he was setting a bad example for the younger generation.

The 43-year-old son, a poet and advocate of LSD and marijuana, had just finished a speech to 1,000 persons at Temple Israel.

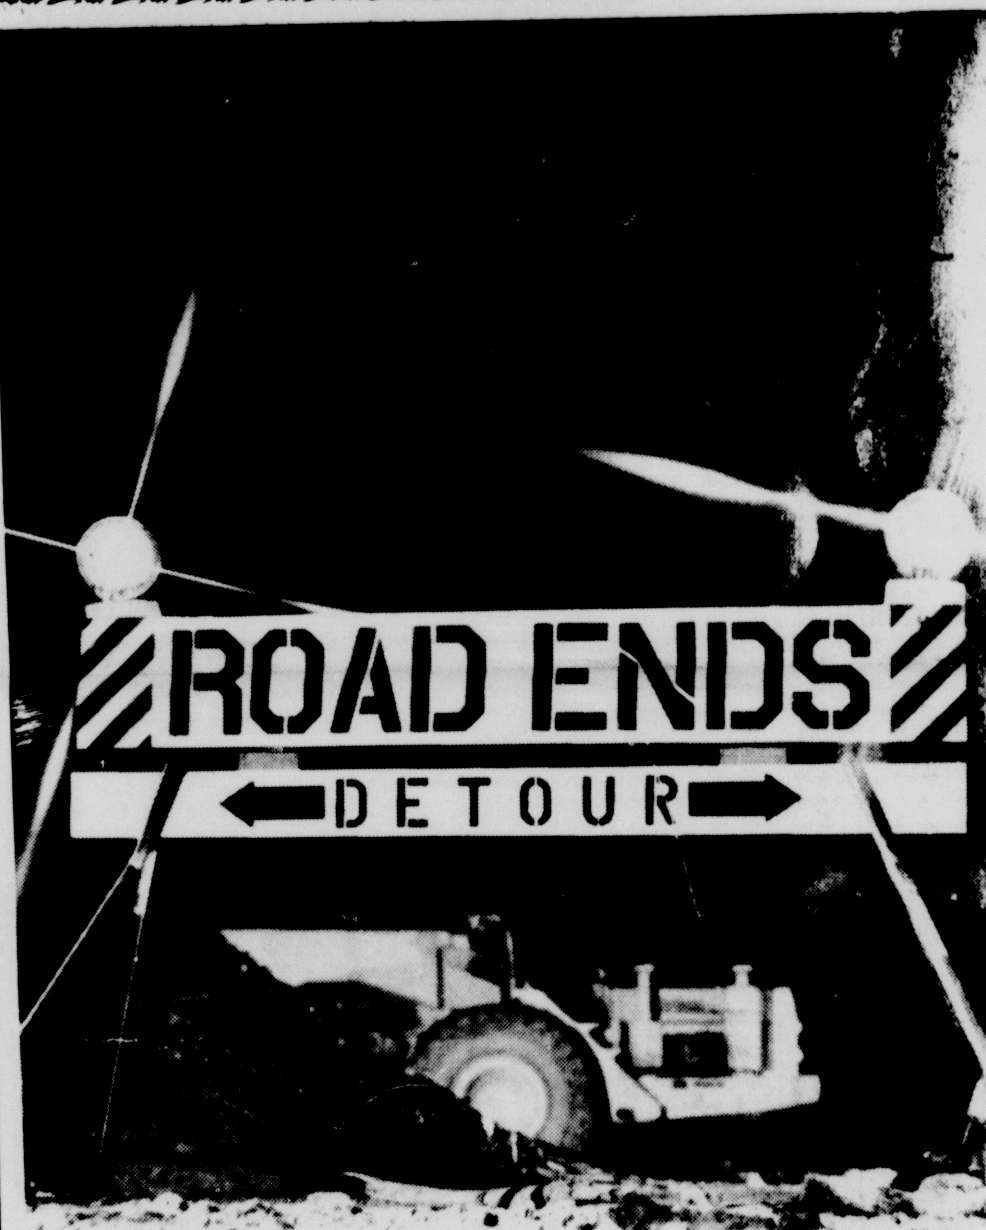

After he sat down, his father couldn't even get his attention long enough to interrupt.

The elder Ginsberg described his son as the guru of the flower generation and reprimanded him for urging legalization of drugs.

He said, "I can get high on the view of a beautiful mountain stream and on the greenness of the fields."

INTIMATE

by Revlon

The clinger

This innocent-looking tear-drop bottle of 'Intimate' Spray is a very deceptive gift. Until one little whoosh unearthes the wildly feminine fragrance that won't let go. 'Intimate'. Don't give it to just anyone. 2 1/4 paisley-wrapped ounces, 3.75.

TWAS A FRIGIDAIRE NIGHT BEFORE
CHRISTMAS

'Twas the night before Christmas
And all through the town
The trucks from CAMPBELL'S
Were busy running 'round
Frigidaire Appliances were being delivered
Now here and now there
The drivers proceeded
With caution and care.
How the people did cheer
In hopes that they might get
A Frigidaire Appliance this year
It really doesn't matter
What you do or where you are
Come to CAMPBELL'S in Sikeston
By bike, truck or car
If you can't come to see us
Here is a neat little trick
Just pick up the phone
Dial 471-Two-Three-Three-Six
Before we end this little poem
There's one thing we sure want to do
That's to wish a VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS
To YOU and YOU and YOU!

ANSWER TO AIRPORT CONGESTION? That is what is hoped for an aluminum "people pod" expected to be ready by the time the jumbo jets go into service. Vehicle, shown as model above, will be 48 feet long and capable of transporting 150 passengers from terminal directly to airliner door. Hydraulic jacks raise and lower passenger compartment to plane and terminal door levels. At right, a full-scale prototype under construction at New Kensington, Pa.

IT'S TEN YEARS OLD and early skeptics of a 2,342-mile inland waterway have been proven wrong by the St. Lawrence Seaway. Despite success of the lock system which opened the Canadian interior and American Midwest to ocean traffic, officials still look for ways to better the waterway. Average per-ship tonnage has increased from about 2,800 tons in 1959, the system's first year, to about 7,300 tons in 1968. Estimated total cargo traffic for 1968 was a record-setting 52 million tons.

"SHOOTING THE TUBE" on a perfect wave like this (top) is every surfer's dream. Trouble is, it's a huge plastic swell on landlocked farmland near Wooster, Ohio. The synthetic wave was created during inflation of a giant one-acre enclosure used as a greenhouse (bottom). The structure, one-eighth the cost of conventional greenhouses, may be the forerunner of inflatables capable of covering entire communities, according to Goodyear, its developer.

County Court Notifies Michael To Increase Bond to $750,000

BENTON — The Scott county court, according to Prosecuting Attorney Tom Gilmore yesterday notified Collector Aubrey Michael his bond must be increased from $200,000 to $750,000 within 10 days.

Gilmore said $750,000 is the maximum required by law and the $200,000 was based on the collector making daily deposits, which he said has not been done. Gilmore said because of this the court has the right to demand additional bond coverage.

The prosecutor said Michael has 10 days to obtain additional bond coverage, and if he does not do it, Gov. Warren Hearnes will be notified of a vacancy in the office.

Since it has been reported the office may be closed or vacated, the wheels of Scott County politics have been grinding. If Michael's office were to be vacated, Governor Hearnes would be submitted a nominee by the Scott county Democratic committee to fill the term, which expires in March of 1971. Hearnes isn't bound to follow the committee's recommendation but he usually does.

Political sources indicate County Clerk Phil Waldman and Scott County Democrat Committee Chairman Bill Lewis are potential nominees. Both have said they would accept the office should a vacancy occur.

60-Day Sentence For Not Support

John McWhirter, Bertrand, was sentenced to 60 days in the Scott County jail this morning in magistrate court on a charge of failing to adequately provide for his seven children.

Special Judge John Hux imposed the sentence after Sheriff John Dennis told him McWhirter's children were living with his wife's parents, who make a living by day labor.

Hux is serving in the absence of Magistrate M. E. Montgomery. James E. Moore III, assistant Scott County prosecuting attorney, represented the state.

Paul Phillips, Louisiana, Mo., was given a suspended 30-day sentence on a charge of appearing in the circuit court room at Benton in an intoxicated condition. He was fined $10 and given one year's probation.

Travis McWhirter, Bertrand, was fined $10 for careless driving and $5 for not having a driver's license.

Three persons were fined for speeding. They were Mary Casey, 524 Coleman, $20, and Barbara Sanford, Scott City, $12, and Larry Pigg, New Madrid, $50.

Ernest Collins, 302 Lyons, was fined $5 for careless driving. James Hagen, 905 Lora, was fined $5 for failure to have a driver's license.

Judge Hux set $2000 bond for Robert L. Brown, St. Louis, who is charged with felonious theft. He is accused of stealing a chain saw, a shotgun and a .22 caliber rifle from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Bell, route one, Oran, earlier this month. The case was one continued one week to allow Brown time to get legal counsel.

Supreme Court Asked for $115,000 Award

WASHINGTON AP - Stephen Dennison, now 60 and gray-haired, appealed today to the Supreme Court for $115,000 for the 34 years he spent in prison for stealing $5 worth of chocolate bars and marshmallows.

Through attorneys, the unemployed Glens Falls, N.Y., janitor said the money, once awarded him by a claims court, would be partial compensation for "the lifetime he could never enjoy."

The award was set aside by New York appeals courts on the grounds Dennison, classified by reformatory officials as a "low-grade moron," could not hold the state liable even if state doctors were wrong in ruling him mentally defective.

As a boy of 16, Dennison was arrested for stealing the candy from a roadside stand in his hometown, Salem, N.Y. He was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation. When he did not report monthly to a minister he was sent to the Elmira reformatory.

There officials decided - Dennison's attorneys later called it a "tragic mistake" - he was mentally deficient. He was transferred to an institution for male defective delinquents at Napanach, N.Y., and later to the Dannemora State Hospital.

In 1960, after 34 years in state institutions, he was released through the efforts of a brother, George, who was convinced he was sane.

The biggest sentence Dennison could have received for the $5 theft was 10 years.

Arrested After Two Drivers Road Mishaps

Two drivers were arrested following accidents Monday, one on a charge of excessive speed and the other for failure to yield the right-of-way.

A 1968 Chevrolet, driven by Modene Gatewood, 49, Caruthersville, attempted a left turn on route EE at the intersection of Interstate 55 at Marston, at 9:45 a.m., and pulled into the path of a 1964 Chrysler, driven by William Leare, 48, Milford, Mich.

The Gatewood woman received minor cuts and scratches, and was taken to the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital, in Hayti. She was given a summons for failure to yield the right-of-way.

At 7:20 p.m. on route D, five miles east of Holland, Robert George Brown, 17, Steele, a passenger in a 1962 Buick, driven by James E. Moody, 45, Holland, received a fractured right leg and possible internal injuries.

Moody lost control, ran off the road and overturned.

Brown was taken to the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital. Moody was cited for speeding.

Wall to Keep Berliners Apart This Christmas

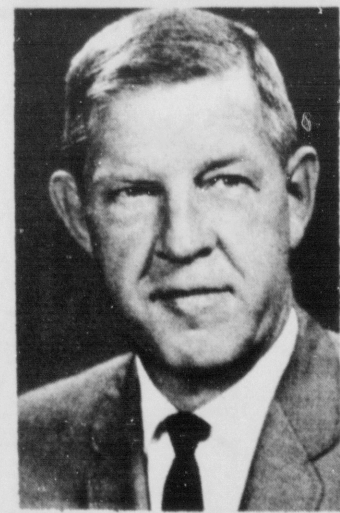

BERLIN (AP) — It is Christmas time in Berlin, and it is bitter cold. For the divided city's residents, there is a chill in their hearts.

It is the fourth Christmas that the East German Communists have denied passes so that West Berliners cannot visit their friends and relatives across the wall in East Berlin.

After the East Germans erected their wall in August 1961, they waited 2½ years before they granted the first passes at Christmas 1963. There were varying seasonal pass periods after that with the last one at Pentecost in 1966-3½ years ago.

In the interim, the East Berlin regime of Walter Ulbricht has used the wall to put unrelenting pressure on the isolated West Berliners to make them give in to Communist demands.

One demand is that the West Berlin city government deal with

Action on Two Bills Lifts Barriers to Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last serious barriers to congressional adjournment today were cleared away with passage of the massive tax reform bill and Senate surrender on President Nixon's plan to open up more construction jobs to blacks.

With these matters taken care of Monday, the House marked time before today's expected mid-afternoon adjournment, while the Senate faced its last bit of routine business—extending regulations governing trade with some Communist nations.

The major congressional handiwork of 1969, the giant tax cut and reform bill, already is on its way to the White House and a top Senate Republican said there is no doubt President Nixon will sign it into law.

The tax bill swept through the Senate Monday, 71-6, after clearing the House 381-2. Ultimately, it will provide $9.1 billion in tax cuts, offset by $6.5 billion in revenue to be raised by the reform provisions.

But a lesser measure, a normally routine $278 million appropriation bill for an assortment of federal agencies, produced a civil rights controversy which kept the Senate working late Monday amid maneuver and controversy.

At issue was congressional clearance of the administration's Philadelphia plan designed to promote employment of Negroes on federally-financed construction projects.

A Senate amendment tacked on to the catch-all appropriation bill would have barred continuation of that program; Nixon termed it unconstitutional and threatened a veto.

The House voted 208-156 to strike the amendment from the bill, and the Senate, weary and ready to quit, finally yielded, too.

The roll call vote was 79-29 to go along with the House and clear the way for a Christmas holiday.

The appropriations involved were minor, but the bill carried another amendment crucial to the fragile framework with which Congress arranged to end the longest session in six years. That one provides authority for continued spending by government agencies which have not yet received their regular appropriations for the fiscal year which began last July 1.

A veto on the civil rights issue would have killed the spending authority, too, and three major government agencies could not meet their payrolls without it.

The appropriations involved are for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Department of Labor and the foreign aid program. Earlier disputes sidetracked their funds until Congress returns to work.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the $19.9 billion appropriation for health, education and labor programs—which Nixon has threatened to veto also because it exceeds his budget—will be the first order of business when the 91st Congress begins its second session Jan. 19. Senate manpower was dwindling as the recess neared: 73 members were on hand for what was the final roll call Monday night.

Vice President Spiro T.

Agnew made a late evening trip to the Capitol to preside, presumably in case of a tie vote, which he could have broken in favor of the administration.

The measure involved both civil rights and congressional prerogatives to oversee federal spending.

The job system is called the Philadelphia plan, and under it, federal contractors agree to provide a prescribed share of construction jobs to Negroes and other minority Americans.

Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats, responsible to Congress for supervision of spending, has ruled this an illegal quota system. Atty. Gen. Aohn N. Mitchell, who works for the administration, has held it a proper use of goals for minority employment.

The amendment would have barred spending on contracts which the comptroller general holds to be illegal.

The Senate retreat means the courts eventually will decide the dispute—but it also means the administration can continue operation of the minority employment system on 14 projects now underway, most of them in the Philadelphia area.

The massive tax bill—which Nixon has not personally said he will sign—offers the second largest income tax reduction in history, and provides a 15 per cent increase in Social Security benefits.

The government estimates it will put some $6.8 billion in additional revenues into the Treasury during the next 18 months, but as it becomes fully effective, over four years, tax reductions will overtake and pass the revenue producing reform provisions.

Snow Remains in Missouri

KANSAS CITY AP — A four-inch layer of snow was on the ground in parts of Missouri today and the forecast held out a chance for a little more snow late Wednesday in the Northwest.

Temperatures were expected to drop tonight into the upper teens in the north to the mid 20s in the south. Skies were expected to clear tonight but be partly cloudy Wednesday. Wednesday temperatures are forecast for the 30s.

Most of the snow cover was in the northeast, central and east central parts of the state.

There was four inches of snow at Edina, Hannibal, Kirksville and St. Louis. Cape Girardeau in the southeast had two inches and in other areas there was two inches at Louisiana, Columbia and Hermann and an inch at Union, Valley Park and outside Kansas City in some suburban areas.

The snow and ice made for hazardous driving in many areas in the northern and north central Missouri but the highway patrol said all roads in the south part of the state were normal.

Attendance Cut at Nixon Party

WASHINGTON AP — President and Mrs. Nixon planned a big Christmas holiday reception for the members of Congress and their families, but a late session on Capitol Hill drastically cut down the attendance.

Instead of some 2,000 expected, only 250 guests arrived for Monday's 5 to 8 p.m. presidential party.

The White House dispensed eggnog, cookies and fruit cake and punch.

The lawmakers were wrestling with tax reform and supplemental appropriations bills that Nixon has been exhorting to pass before Christmas.

Agnew Trip Designed to Give Him Knowledge of Asia

WASHINGTON AP - Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's 10-day, 37,000-mile trip includes stops in three countries - the Philippines, Thailand and Formosa - that have been targets of recent attacks in the Senate.

Agnew also has expressed hope to going to Vietnam, although it is not listed on the itinerary and aides said no visit is planned. The trip, Agnew's first abroad as vice president, is designed to give him first-hand knowledge of Asia.

The vice president will be meeting with top officials of the nations he visits and is likely to run into reaction to Senate attacks on military aid to some Asian nations.

In the Philippines, where Agnew is to attend the Dec. 30 inauguration of President Ferdinand E. Marcos, there was strong criticism of a charge by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., that the United States had paid the Manila government $45 million in equipment and allowances in return for sending troops to Vietnam.

The Philippine government denied the charge, contained in a transcript which was held up by the State Department here until after the country's elections last month.

Formosa, Agnew's next stop, was the target of the Senate just last week when it rejected the $1.8 billion foreign aid money bill rather than agree to supply the government of Chiang Kai-shek some $54.5 million to buy additional jet fighters.

From Taipei, Agnew is scheduled to go to Thailand.

Congressional sources charged recently the United States paid the Thais some $1 billion in return for its dispatch of troops to Vietnam. Both the State Department and the Thai government denied the charges.

A number of Senate critics of the Vietnam war fear U. S. military aid to Thailand and neighboring Laos could result in the United States being dragged into another Vietnam there.

As a result, the Senate voted last week to ban dispatch of American combat troops to the two countries without specific prior congressional approval.

Later in his trip, Agnew visits Australia and New Zealand, countries which were targets of the abortive Senate move to give the President standby authority to impose import quotas. Meat imports from the two countries have been among the main targets of congressional efforts to tighten quotas.

Agnew will be accompanied on the trip by his wife and Apollo 10 astronauts, Eugene Cernan, who will go as far as Bangkok, and Thomas Stafford, who will go the rest of the way.

Israel Angrily Rejects U.S. Proposals For Peace Agreement in Middle East

TEL AVIV AP - Israel, in one of its strongest blasts at the United States, has rejected U. S. proposals for a Middle East peace agreement, calling them "appeasement of the Arabs" which "seriously prejudice prospects for peace."

On the battlefield, Israeli commandos struck into Egypt again Monday night to mortar an Egyptian naval base on the Red Sea coast, the Israeli command said. It was the second raid on an Egyptian military installation in five days.

Relations between Israel and the United States, home of the Jewish nation's chief financial backers, were at their lowest point in years.

A communique issued after a special session Monday of Premier Golda Meir's Cabinet said the American proposals for peace between Israel and Jordan and between Israel and Egypt contain nothing obliging the Arabs to end hostilities and peace agreement, calling them "appeasement of the Arabs" which "seriously prejudice prospects for peace."

The statement said Israel "views with concern the disquieting initiatives of the United States at the four power talks" on the Middle East which the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France have been holding in New York and Washington. The Cabinet said Israel will not be the victim of power politics and will reject any attempt to impose a settlement on it.

Mrs. Meir, in an interview with the New York Times after the cabinet session, said the U. S. government was asking Israel "to start all over again, as though it were 1948."

"I don't think it's Israelis, the U. S. proposals develop and train their own coast."

Washington's intention," Mrs. Meir said, "but each new proposal only encourages the Arabs to increase their military activity across the borders."

The latest American proposal reportedly calls for Israeli withdrawal from the west bank of the Jordan River, captured during the 1967 war, and Israeli-Jordanian talks on the status of Jerusalem, which Israel unified after taking the Arab sector from Jordan during the 1967 fighting. The United States advocates internationalization of the city, but Israel says it will never give it up.

Political informants said the Israeli Cabinet was particularly concerned that the U. S. proposals had no provision for dealing with the Arab guerrillas. Although they angered the Arab nations continue to seemed to do nothing to raise forces. Washington's stock with the Arabs. Egypt rejected a prescription for it, Jordan was silent on the plan for it, and one source at the Arab summit conference in Rabat, Morocco, commented: "America has been against us all along. How do we know this is not some subtle new trick?"

The Rabat conference produced some of the usual war talk, but sources there said it was apparent that most leaders of the Arab world realize they can't win war against Israel yet.

The conference was evolving a strategy of letting the Palestine guerrillas, Arabs who claim they are refugees from Palestine, carry more of the burden of daily harassment of Israel while the Arab nations continue to develop and train their own coast."

The Israeli commando raid hit the Egyptian naval base at Safage, about 62 miles south of the mouth of the Gulf of Suez, spokesmen said. The Israelis gave no estimate of the damage they inflicted, but said all the commandos returned safely.

An Egyptian military spokesman denied that Israeli commandos had mortared the naval base at Safage "or any other place on the Red Sea

Cotton Crop Fails to Meet Requirements

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said Monday that the 1969 crop of upland cotton lacked 850,000 bales of meeting domestic and export requirements for the current marketing year ending next July 31.

Officials estimated the cotton "shortfall" under terms of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965. The difference between total requirements and the current crop must be made up by sales of cotton owned by the Commodity Credit Corp.

The 1969 upland cotton crop is estimated at 9,950,000 bales while requirements for domestic and export use total 10.8 million.

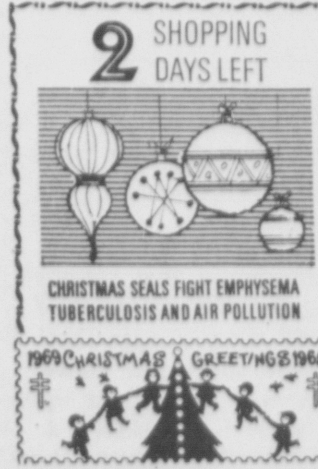

Officials also announced a shortfall for extra long staple cotton (ELS) of from 29,600 bales to 39,100 bales. Sales also will be made from CCC stocks to handle demand for this type, the department said.

There was no shortfall in the 1968 crop as production slightly exceeded total demand. Officials said, however, the 1969 shortfall was far less than those in 1966 and 1967 when the combined total was about 10 million bales.

The latest shortfall, however, was expected to reduce the U.S. cotton carryover next July 31 to about 5.6 million bales, the smallest stockpile since 1963.

The Agriculture Department earlier had announced the 1970 national cotton acreage allotment would be 17 million acres, compared with about 16.2 million in effect for some years.

A spokesman said additional production is required to rebuild U.S. supplies of all qualities of cotton to meet future demands.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!
REAP THE WHIRLWIND

Victor Riesel is one of the nation's most knowledgeable reporters on the labor scene. There is little that this newsman does not know about the field of his specialty.

We noted with interest, and some mixed emotions, his column reporting the threat of a boycott of Swedish shipping by the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA). Our first reaction was one of sadness that the relations between Americans and Swedes have so deteriorated. There was a time when we were quite close to the Scandinavian country. But with the rapid movement toward the extreme Left by the Swedish government, our ways have parted.

Our second emotion is one of pride in the rugged men of the waterfront. Over the years the Longshoremen have been painted in dark hues. They are presented as caricatures of the Neanderthal - brutish hulks with bulging muscles, but nothing in the way of brainpower. This image is as unfair as it is untrue.

Our pride is in the fact that the proposed boycott is a protest against the financial aid by Sweden to the Communist dictatorship of North Vietnam. The aid is to be in the form of donations of money and extensions of credit to the North Vietnamese. Of course it is the right of the government of Sweden to give help to anybody they choose. But it is also the right of ILA members to refuse to handle the cargo of Swedish products, if the aid is extended. Mr. Riesel states: "They (the ILA) now believe the International Longshoremen are morally and ethically free to boycott Swedish freighters, cruise ships, Volvos, Saabs and any other products from that nation."

"It is my belief such action would have the tacit support of the President of the U. S. and the president of the AFL-CIO. This could cost Sweden scores of millions of dollars in small car sales here. It could also cripple its merchant fleet profits since the U. S. is its biggest marine service customer."

We might add that it will also show Hanoi and the world that there are other "demonstrators" in the United States, who believe in giving support, aid and comfort to our allies and fighting men in Vietnam, and not to the enemy.

The Kansas City Times says in a headline that "Hearnes veto Irka Danforth," well if it was as misinformed as Danforth seems to be and I had political ambitions I don't know anyone better to be continuously irked at than the Governor. There is not a thing to be gained by jumping on the top waters.

One of the things that makes us think that the United Fund in St. Louis did the right thing is cutting off the funds for the Legend and Society of St. Louis and St. Louis County is the fact that the Post Dispatch thinks they did wrong.

Frank Ferrell contends that if gentlemen really preferred blondes there wouldn't be a brunette in six weeks.

When President - elect Nixon introduced his cabinet on television just a year ago -- on Dec. 11, 1968 -- he described John N. Mitchell, the Attorney General - designate, as "a man who is as devoted as I am .. to waging an effective war against crime." Twelve months later that war appears to be a rather tepid one. Congress has been dragging its feet, and so has the White House.

The crime problem is perhaps best exemplified by the nation's capital, the District of Columbia. The Nixon "model anticrime program" for Washington did not reach Capitol Hill until July 11. Not a single part of the package is likely to clear the Congress at this session. And White House pressure has been mild to say the least. But on Dec. 4, the President expressed concern to congressional leaders about lack of action on organized crime.

Five months ago the President sent to the Hill a series of bills which Attorney General Mitchell described as reflecting the administration's "firm, evenhanded" approach to crime control. The package included a bill to amend the Bail Reform Act of 1966 to permit a judge to set strict conditions of release or to detain a criminal suspect in noncapital cases -- the so - called preventive detention provision.

Another measure would reorganize the court system of the District of Columbia, consolidating into a single -- the Superior -- court the Court of General Sessions, the Juvenile Court, and the District Tax Court. Still another would convert the Legal Aid Agency of the District into a Public Defender Service.

A new juvenile code is proposed in another bill. This is a companion bill to the court reorganization bill, which was passed by the Senate on Sept. 18. The court organization bill was split in two by the Senate District Committee, headed by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings (D Md.). The second part includes amendments in procedure to allow nighttime searches by officials with warrant and a "no - knock" provision to allow officials to enter premises to be searched without first announcing themselves. The committee has reported this bill as well as the public defender measure.

The preventive detention bill is strongly opposed by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D N.C.), chairman of the subcommittee on constitutional rights, as a "repudiation of centuries of Anglo - American traditions of fairness, due process, and common standards of justice."

President Nixon on Oct. 9 conceded that the crime situation in the nation's capital had reached the crisis point. But crime in the nation's capital, noted the President, "Has run through all administrations."

District police on Nov. 26 announced that serious crime in Washington, D.C., during October was up 35.4 per cent over that of October 1968. Only in auto theft was there a reduction in the crime rate. In the year ended Sept. 30 there were 11, 645 robberies in the District, up 59 per cent over the preceding year. U. S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT observes: "Downtown Washington at night is almost deserted ... Store clerks, filling - station attendants and delivery men work in constant fear. Many keep guns at hand .. Burglaries in the year ended Sept. 30 totaled 20,968 -- up 20 per cent over the previous year."

The District has the highest rate of robberies and burglaries of all American cities of comparable size. It ranks seventh in forcible rapes. And yet it has the highest per capita income and lowest unemployment rate of any major city.

MICROWAVES OF THE FUTURE?

Microwave Communication Inc. is an audacious David that has stung, though hardly stunned, the Goliath AT&T in a legal round this year before the Federal Communications Commission. The FCC last August unexpectedly told MCI that it could build a chain of microwave relay stations between Chicago and St. Louis -- in direct competition with existing long lines of American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

MCI since has returned to the commission with a series of proposals to link 63 metropolitan areas from coast to coast with a microwave network and provide, among other things, a hookup for 48 separate educational television stations. Bernard Strassburg, chief of the FCC's Common Carrier Bureau, has scheduled a meeting of "interested parties" in Washington on Thursday, Dec. 18, to discuss the proposals. Since microwaves are wireless line - of - sight signals that do not bend around the contours of the earth, relay stations are needed about every 30 miles. MCI contends that it can build them cheaper than AT&T can string wires -- and thus offer a variety of business customers low - cost voice and data transmission.

In a 4 to 3 decision, the FCC offered to give the Chicago - St. Louis microwave plan a trial. BUSINESS WEEK suggested soon afterward (Sept. 6, 1969) that the vote might have been different had not the Antitrust Division of the Justice Department been a participant. The decision opens many questions besides that of monopoly. Nicholas Johnson, a commissioner who voted with the majority, has said that no one in government seems to have the vaguest sort of master plan for the communication explosion that lies ahead.

A release from Nation's Business observes, "Leaders of state legislatures, by a margin of 6 to 1, think the present method of electing the President of the United States should be abandoned in favor of a new system. And of those favoring change, two thirds think the country should choose its Chief Executive by direct popular vote."

DES MOINES (AP) -- It only took us two winters, but we finally found out what Iowans do when the frost gets on the pumpkins and harvest time is over.

Our first winter in the Hawkeye State last year found us generally wrapped up in a blanket huddling around the fire place and brooding about what someone had against us by shipping us from Florida to Iowa in November.

Not so this winter. We've found a salvation--one that sends you out to cool off in cool weather. It's called hockey.

The team is called the Des Moines Oak Leafs, but they actually play in Urbandale, a suburb of Des Moines.

If that doesn't confuse you, the game will. The closest we had ever come to a hockey game was batting a beer can around a lake when we were in school in Missouri.

Our hockey career ended abruptly when we hit a patch of thin ice and fell in.

That first night, the most we learned about the game is that icing is something besides what comes on cakes and a face off isn't necessarily what you have with the frau when you come tiptoeing in loaded with martinis.

More interesting than the game were the fans. Girls in mini-skirts and goose-pimpled legs, farmers in overalls, outdoorsmen in hunting jackets--fans just about every shape and size in the book.

But, they all had one thing in common. They could make a lot of noise, and it was evident that the Oak Leafs were their team.

Now, the Oak Leafs aren't what you'd call the top of the professional hockey stack--in fact, they're in the International Hockey League, just one or two jumps out of the amateur ranks.

But to Oak Leafs fans they're No. 1, win or lose.

To protect yourself, there are a couple of basic rules to remember.

--When the guys in the green and white uniforms get clustered around that well padded fellow at the other end in a different color outfit, you jump up and yell your fool head off.

--When you jump up and yell place your fool head off, make sure you don't step on the cup of beer sitting under the seat next to you, or you don't empty yours down the back of the guy in front of you.

Really, it's a crowd participation game. In a town where you couldn't draw a crowd of 300 people if you were giving away $1 bills, they pack 4,500 spectators into an ice arena with a seating capacity of 4,000.

When one person jumps up to yell, the whole crowd has to. It's like a can of sardines cheering on their favorite shark.

They even have two Urbandale policemen to guard the penalty box. As one of them put it: "The fans around here get so excited they jump out of the stands and pour beer on the players in the penalty box."

And, the games' most consistent fan is a slightly blind, mild, dental technician named Randy Boyd.

Randy spends all day building false teeth, but when the Oak Leafs are home the nights become a second heaven. Equipped with a battered bugle --I got for something like $13.98-- he wandered into the arena three years ago and blew "charge" as the Oak Leafs were about to make a big play.

He's been there every night since, and "they even give me a season pass now." His only two bugle calls are "Charge" and "Taps," the latter reserved for the final minute when the home team wins and the fans shout the visitors off the ice.

"The Administration Says That Stuff's Unreliable, Too!"

Many holiday parties will be held from now until the first of next year. With this in mind, Colonel E.L. (Mike) Hockaday, the Superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, reminded drivers of the dangers of driving after drinking.

"A drinking driver is not a clear-thinking driver," Hockaday noted. "Alcohol dulls a person's senses and deadens restraints that usually govern one's behavior. In short, liquor influences a person to take chances and do things he normally wouldn't do. Such a carefree attitude behind the wheel of a car can set the stage for an accident."

The Patrol Superintendent stated that studies show that drinking is involved in more than half of all fatal traffic accidents. These estimates involve no special time of the year; so during this holiday season of parties and celebrations, the implications are even more frightening.

"If the holidays are to be kept from being disastrous for many people in Missouri, care and common sense will have to replace the usual holiday carelessness," the Colonel continued. "A good idea to employ if you are going to drink at a party is to take a taxi or have a friend who does not drink provide your transportation. This precaution will better assure you of a safe trip home."

Colonel Hockaday also noted that the drinking driver faces the danger of losing his privilege to drive. He pointed out that a person arrested and convicted of driving while intoxicated stands to have his license to drive revoked.

Then there was the irate husband who had the nerve to call his wife an "out and out liar."

Asked his friend, "Why would you say a thing like that about your wife?"

"Because she said she was with her sister, Bess, last night."

"So? You don't have any proof that she wasn't?"

"Yes I do. I was with Bess last night!"

"You mean to say that you're engaged to five different boys at once?"

"Yeah, I can hardly wait until after Christmas to straighten things out."

A proposal has been advanced in Congress to preserve Georgia's Okefenokee Swamp as a national wilderness. A bill to accomplish this was introduced by Rep. W. S. Stuckey, Jr. (D-Ga.) With all the floating and disappearing islands, will-o-the-wisps and such, they may have to give some thought to finding it before they can preserve it.

That cereal package offer aimed at music lovers has a cute switch. Send them money and they send you Bach's Tops.

The truck fleet owner was planning an extensive trip to Italy and the travel agent called to advise that it was necessary to send a $50 deposit for his hotel reservations in Venice and Rome.

A few minutes later, she called back, but the fleet owner was on another phone, so she asked his secretary to give him the following message, which the secretary did -- in a strained tone of voice: "Mr. Simpson will know what I mean. Just tell him it will cost $20 more for Florence."

Betcha Didn't Know... Falsies are the bust that money can buy.

Leisure time is no longer a problem. Thanks to modern methods of transportation, you use it all up getting to and from work.

WORLD WONDERS THAT WERE

Funny thing, but ever since the Army's Corps of Engineers cut the American side of Niagara Falls down to a trickle in order to study its crumbling rock structure, sightseers have been more numerous than ever.

This may be the answer to conservationists who warn of what will happen when the population reaches its third hundred million (as it will in a short 30 years) - the overtaxed park and recreation facilities, the crowds, crowds, crowds at every natural wonder.

Natural wonders - who needs them? As Niagara non-Falls shows, nonwonders are just as good. We can hear 21st century guides telling enthralled groups of tourists:

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON -- Senator Tom Dodd has been secretly gathering evidence for explosive hearings about prison horrors in 15 states.

In the last few weeks, reports have reached this column from various states of calls and visits by his investigators to prison experts, ex - convicts and law enforcement officers.

Dodd apparently has selected Ohio, California and Florida for exposure of prison atrocities. He may also put the Senate spotlight on Louisiana and Indiana.

Although he has found brutality in almost every one of the 50 states, say insiders, he plans to confine his hearings to 15 states.

Among the stories his agents have verified are shackling of inmates in Louisiana, jailhouse beatings of youngsters in California, pressing of Ohio inmates for days between steel doors, and the clubbing to death of a young prisoner in Florida.

The Ohio torture was described in a series of hearings this spring by Dr. Sam Sheppard, convicted and cleared of wife murder. Ohio officials sneered at it, but Dodd's men have documented it thus.

-SMUGGLED LETTERS-

In several states, Dodd has been pressured to back off from his probe, but witnesses have already been approached and tentatively invited to testify. Letters have also been smuggled from prisoners to Dodd offering testimony on sickening perversion and brutality within state prison systems.

Convicts, some famous for crimes they would like to forget now, have offered to come forward. Conscientious prison officials have also told Dodd's men they will risk their jobs to expose prison abuses.

Out of these hearings and those last spring, the Senate's most detailed record in history is emerging: of prison torture, despair and waste. Tom Dodd should be commended for caring about these froggots --n - the more so since he is running for re - election next year and men in cells have no votes.

Day after day last spring, generally alone because his fellow Senators did not want to be seen on TV with a man they had censured, Dodd sat through the horror tales. One young black convict cried out from the witness stand to Dodd, saying: "Senator, you can't know what it's like unless you've been there."

A little smile played across the old Senator's face for a moment. Maybe he was thinking about the income tax case hanging over his own head at the Justice Department, and the possibility he could wind up in the convict's place.

-HICKEL'S SURPRISE- Secretary of the Interior Walter Hickel, who was roughed up by the Senate Interior Committee during his confirmation hearings, invited his tormentors to his offices the other day for a Christmas luncheon.

He gave each guest a book in Christmas wrappings. On the front cover was Hickel's portrait and the title: "How to Get a Job in Government Without Really Trying" or "How to Write a 450 - Page Book in Five Days." Between the covers was the printed record of the stormy Hickel hearings.

"I consider this a valuable gift," chuckled Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, "because it indicates that, despite the content of the book, we are fast friends."

Chairman Henry "Scoop" Jackson, D-Wash., alluding to the fact that Hickel had promised at the hearings to clear his decisions with the committee, remarked ruefully: "When you promised to check everything with us, we didn't know what a box you would put us in."

For Hickel's habit of referring his most prickly problems - Hickel's pickles, he calls them - to the committee has given the members some political headaches.

The gruffly amiable

Hickel agreed there was a "great need for more parks in 'populous areas' and promised to provide more recreation areas easily accessible to the big cities.

"On the site of this housing development stood the last redwood trees, the kind pictured in the booklet given you" ... "Beneath the waters of this huge lake, which serves the needs of Arizona's 20 million citizens, are the sheer walls of the world's deepest cayon, once called Grand" ... "Yes, folks, Mammoth Cave is well - named. We can't go in, of course, but it's estimated it can store all the obsolete nerve gas the United States will manufacture for the next 100 years"....

Somehow, we liked Niagara Falls better when it was running.

JUST THE BEGINNING: Governors, U.S. Senators Silent, Inactive While Mafia's Political Power Rockets in Home State

Newark, N.J.: - This may be a slight case of political murder. But never has politoco - cide been more justified.

Here in the center of the most concentrated Mafia jungle, in the nation's most corrupt state, dominated by a lethal Cosa Nostra, led by dons living as suburban squires, we the people are told by the state's liberal leaders that the whole thing is exaggerated.

This is a state which for years has been led by the progressive Gov. Richard Hughes and the avant - garde Senators Harrison Williams and Clifford Case. It is the 50 - year - old Harrison Williams, whose interest in he underground mostly is among the coaldiggers, who says bluntly it is exaggerated. It is Clifford Case, a gentle fellow, who says nothing. And it is Richard Hughes who looks startled and asks how long has this horrid thing been going on?

Well, it's been going on for a long time and if these honorable gentlemen have been unaware of who has been getting out of the vote, and who has been a power in the state legislature, and who has turned out some of those instant - campaign caravans and cheering fund - raising banquet guests, they should defect from politics -- especially from national lawmaking.

How could anyone not have known that Murder, Inc.'s executioner Albert Anastasia lived in that Cliffside mansion over at Fort Lee?

How could anyone in politics not have known that the Kefauver Senate Investigating Committee once asked the Executioner if he had murdered 35 men -- and that he asked to see the committee's records before he incriminated himself?

How could anyone in high places, with access to intelligence files and FBI cooperation -- always available to a senator or governor -- not have known that this reputed killer was an intimate of the cultured Abne (Longy) Zwillman, a crime syndicate financier multimillionaire, alleged friend of Meyer Lansky, realtor and alleged braintrust of an intricately interwoven network of mob operations?

How could anyone in high office not have known of Longy's political power, and of his nationally influential friends, and of his ability to reach into White House circles over the decades until he "hung himself" some 10 years ago? And I don't refer here to the Eisenhower presidential years.

How could anyone in New Jersey politics, which influenced the Washington power structure in he '30s and '40s, not have known of the Anastasia - Zwillman relationship with the Vito Genovese borgata? They were friends, until they left this earth precipitously, of "Mr. A." Joe Adonis now living in delightful Milanese exile. They socialized with Charles (Lucky) Luciano until he died, also in luxurious exile. They were their own law. And they knew the men who said, "I am the law."

Now we're getting into big money. Millions on millions of it. And they knew Gerardo (Jerry) Catena, the Genovese underboss. This made quite a social set. Don't underestimate

Ann Landers
'No' to Illegal Abortion, but Strong 'Yes' to Amended Laws

Dear Ann Landers: I was shocked by your seeming approval of legal abortions. Have you taken leave of your senses? Don't you realize millions of people look to you for moral guidance? Our priest has, on occasion, used your column as a basis for his sermons. I am happy he was in Rome when that particular column appeared. He would have been very disappointed.

These are trying times in which to keep one's values straight. People need something to cling to. You have always been a staunch supporter of old-fashioned morality. What happened? Please don't shake our faith by coming out for something that is against our religion. There are over 46 million Catholics in this country and we believe abortion is murder. We count on you. Don't let us down. —A Mother In Massachusetts

Dear Mother: I would not recommend abortion for that devout Catholic — for that matter, anyone whose religion teaches that abortion is murder. For women who believe this, the guilt resulting from an abortion could produce serious emotional problems.

As many Catholic theologians agree, religious law should not be the basis for civil law. There are millions of women who do NOT view abortion as murder and these women should not be subjected to backroom, kitchen-table butchery. Thousands of married women as well as single girls die every year because the law has driven them to attic hideouts and motel room surgery.

I hope you will read the next letter. It represents another point of view:

Dear Ann Landers: I'm glad you had the courage to come out and say the abortion laws are unjust, archaic and should be sharply amended. I had an abortion two days ago so I speak from experience. Fortunately I live in Kansas where therapeutic abortions are legal. In this state, if two physicians sign a statement saying the birth of a child would be detrimental to a woman's physical or mental health, she can be aborted in a hospital. The price is $500. It is painless and safe.

Many of your readers will probably wonder about the details of my particular case — whether I am married or single, a teen-ager or a career girl. Was the father of my child a married man or a lover who would have married me had I been willing? The details, I believe are irrelevant. What matters is that I was able legally and safely to terminate an unwanted pregnancy. Every woman should have the choice, and it shouldn't cost $500. —Lawrence, Kansas

Dear Lawrence: Hooray for Kansas! And you can add Colorado and a few others. At this writing, at least a dozen states are in the process of trying to liberalize their laws on abortion and I say the revision is long overdue. I believe that no woman, married or single, should be forced by the government to have a child she does not want if her physician decides he can safely terminate the pregnancy.

I want to make it clear that I am not encouraging illegal abortion. What is needed is

Coconuts For Christmas

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Ed Clinch received his annual coconut Friday, just as he has every Christmas season for the past 21 years.

Each year the coconut arrives in some unconventional manner, and this year was no exception. It was delivered by a Peoria zoo attendant riding a Sicilian donkey.

One year the sheriff brought it, another year a skydiver dropped in with it and once it was delivered by ambulance.

Clinch says he has no idea who sends the coconuts, though he suspects it may be some old Army buddy from World War II.

reform of existing laws. I support the conclusion of the Group For Advancement of Psychiatry that abortion, when performed by a licensed physician should be entirely removed from the domain of criminal law.

Christmas can be a problem. What can you give the person who has everything? Ann Landers' new book, "Truth Is Stranger," is available in book stores. It can also be obtained by writing Prentice Hall, Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey. Price, $4.95.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Woman Driver

SEABROOK, N. H. (AP) — An unidentified lady school bus driver threw about 30 students off her bus Friday for pelting her with peanuts.

Officials of the bus company said the driver was harassed by flying peanuts for four miles during the morning trip and she finally stopped the bus and gave the exit command.

Some parents called and complained because their children — all attending Winnacunnet Cooperative High School at Hampton Beach — had to hike home in 28-degree weather. Others called their parents and were driven home.

The bus company owner, Shaun Berry of Northampton, said he would move the lady driver to another route.

Mothers of Mongoloid Children
For Appeal To Private Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — An organization of mothers of Mongoloid children plans an appeal for private money if Congress' fiscal ax cuts off federal funds for a promising research program against Mongolism.

The research program is reported to be the only one of its type still in existence in the United States and is aimed at determining whether a still-experimental drug can improve the serious mental retardation of Mongoloids.

The mothers' organization, a Washington-area group called "Mothers of Young Mongoloids," recently mounted a national letter-writing campaign protesting what it said was a threat to the program because of proposed cuts in appropriations for the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness.

Mrs. Donald G. Wyman of Alexandria, Va., a spokesman for the organization of 55 mothers, said in an interview her organization was encouraged earlier this week when a Senate appropriations subcommittee increased by $1.4 million funds recommended by the Nixon administration's budget for all projects of the neurological institute. About $50,000 had been sought for the Mongolism project.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., singled out the project for special praise in its report. But Mrs. Wyman said she feared for the program because of reports President Nixon plans to veto the new appropriations bill, including appropriations for all the National Institutes of Health, if it passed Congress in its present form.

She said the experimental drug—designed to duplicate a natural chemical deficient in the brains of Mongoloids—already has resulted in definite improvement in muscle tone and coordination among children.

Someone to wrap them, pretty and quick. I knew in a moment that would do the trick. Tho'ts and ideas ran thru my brain. Gowns, peignors after each name. Pajamas, slips, robe: will fix em. Be sure you know the size that fits them. Now hurry down Center, to your beck and call. If you can't find it there you can't find it at all. Make it her very happiest day. Come to My Lady's Lingerie. 506 East Center Street. Free parking and that can't be beat.

SHS Freshman Lose, 44-42

POPLAR BLUFF — Despite outstanding performances by Sikeston's Pope Hunt and Bill Green, the Poplar Bluff freshman Mules won their second game of the season from the Bulldogs, 44-42.

Hunt scored 14 points in a 20 point first half, netting all eight in the first period and ended the game with 16 markers while Green hit 12 of his 14 in the second, netting all six in the final period as the Dogs bid for their first win of the season to only settle for their third setback.

Sikeston's downfall could be attributed to its poor free throw shooting as it netted only four of 16 and out-hit the host from the field 19-18. The host however did little better from the charity post, sinking only eight of 17.

J. B. Hayes ripped in 17 points while his backcourt mate, Ben Holt added 10 for the Mules top efforts. The SHS freshman will host Kennett Jan. 10 in its next game.

Goose Picture Cloudy

JEFFERSON CITY — Predicting wildlife trends is only slightly less hazardous than playing Russian Roulette because things that fly, swim and run have a way of beating the odds.

But if young - adult ratios mean anything (and they do), Missouri's goose hunters may be facing a drab season a few years from now.

First of all, the young - adult ratio is the ratio between young birds shot by hunters to adult birds taken. A very high ratio would be three young to one adult, since young birds make up the bulk of every migration. This year at Swan Lake-Fountain Grove, the November ratio was one young bird to one adult. This low ratio has held all season and indicates a poor hatch last spring of the Missouri birds.

A Department of Conservation biologist was in Canada during the nesting season and saw the Missouri flock's nesting grounds get hit by a heavy snowstorm which played havoc with the flock.

Geese which migrate through Missouri with Swan Lake as the principal stopping point are the Eastern Prairie Population. Yet only a few miles away, in the big Illinois refuges at Crab Orchard,

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — South Africans have always admitted rugby, the national sport, is almost a national religion. Lately, school teams in the outback Karoo region of Cape Province have taken to praying before they start their games. In a letter to a local newspaper, a commercial traveller said he first noted this when he saw one platted (rural) fifteen going into a huddle before the match. He saw their lips moving and asked what was going on. "We are praying for victory," the captain replied. "We also find that when we pray before a match it becomes a better game and there is never any fighting."

Horseshoe Lake and Union, the geese belong to the Mississippi Valley Population.

The Illinois birds nest on a different part of massive Hudson Bay and had a good nesting spring. The pinch, if there is one, for Missouri won't come for at least three years.

The majority of Canada geese breed in their third year, so this year's hatch will start production in three years. If this is a low hatch, then there logically will be fewer parent birds in three years.

"We're concerned about this, we sure are," says Mike Milonski, superintendent of game management for the Department. Of course there always is the possibility that the next spring or two could produce record hatches which would compensate for a low hatch three years from now.

Further complicating the picture is the increase in hunting pressure from Iowa, Minnesota, and Manitoba, the two states and the Prairie Province which entertain the Eastern Prairie flock before Missouri does.

Anticipating future hunting pressure, game managers this year started planning to increase the overall flock. Missouri agreed to a harvest cut from 25,000 birds to 20,000 at Swan Lake.

Iowa and Minnesota agreed to start their seasons later. But as it turned out, the geese migrated late enough that virtually none migrated through those states before the shooting started.

Milonski thinks the 1969 season has been a good one. "There have been birds in the air most of the time all season," Milonski said. "A lot of hunters have had a chance to get out and get their geese. Some days you go out and maybe see only one bird all day, but this season hasn't been that way. There've been a lot of birds flying."

WHAT'S in the future for this goose—and for Missouri goose hunters? Evidence is that there was a poor 1969 Canada goose hatch in the goose population which migrates through Missouri. But the effects, if any, won't be felt for some time. (Dept. of Conservation photo.)

N-S Shrine Game Thursday:

A-States Swinney With South

JONESBORO, Ark. — now will get a chance to show his wares in an All-Star tilt.

The big senior helped lead Arkansas State to its second straight SLC title this year and a victory in the Pecan Bowl. He has been scrutinized by pro scouts since the beginning of his junior campaign and probably will get an early invitation in the pro draft.

For the present, however, Swinney is interested in landing a starting role in the North South game. He would like nothing better than to follow Bergey's success pattern, and the first step would be a standout day for the South on national TV.

Last year the Indians sent Bergey, their All-American linebacker, to the North-South tilt. He won plaudits as the game's top defensive player and launched what has been an almost storybook pro career.

Bergey recently was named the American Football League's defensive rookie of the year. He is a middle linebacker with Cincinnati.

Swinney, who last year was defensive player of the year in the Southland Conference, despite Bergey's presence, has been equally successful this year. He won the SLC defensive honor again, made two All-American teams, was defensive player of the game in the Pecan Bowl and

Prep Poll Takes On New Look

Three new teams were added to this week's Daily Standard basketball poll as selected by the 14-member coaches panel during the weekend while New Madrid and Malden remained one, two in the final poll for 1969. The next ratings will be released on January 6, 1970.

Dexter, Chaffee and Matthews moved into this week's top ten after making earlier appearances in the ratings. The trio replaces Puxico, Woodland and Richland who failed to draw enough votes to maintain their seventh, ninth and 10th place positions of last week.

Besides the three new teams and the top two, the remaining five made some kind of switch as the poll took on a new look going into a new year.

Delta and Poplar Bluff moved up one place as Advance tumbled from third to fifth while Charleston made the only advance from last week, jumping from eighth to sixth while last week's sixth ranked Delta C-7 Chargers fell to ninth.

New Madrid, Poplar Bluff and Delta C-7 will be idle until the new year while all other poll members are entered in one of the two area Holiday tournaments that get underway Friday.

Third rated Delta is top seeded for the Cape Girardeau 16-team affair while sixth ranked

Charleston, and eighth rated Chaffee are entered in the meet.

At Bloomfield, fifth rated Advance was top seeded over second ranked Malden while seventh ranked Dexter and 10th ranked Matthews will add competition to the 16-team battle.

Also adding to this final poll of 1969 is the names of Risco and East Prairie, who receive votes for the first time in over five years.

THE TOP TEN with first place votes in parentheses, records and total points at right:

(1) New Madrid (6) 11-0 129
(2) Malden (4) 7-0 115
(3) Delta (3) 10-0 96
(4) Poplar Bluff (1) 6-1 86

(7) Dexter 5-9 39
(8) Chaffee 5-3 38
(9) Delta C-7 9-1 20
(10) Matthews 7-3 14

OTHERS with votes, not necessarily in order of number of votes received:

Risco; Hayti North; Parma; East Prairie; Cape Central; Oak Ridge; Puxico; Woodland; Richland; Scott Central; Neelyville and Bernie.

Father Reprimands

Poet Son for Urging

Legalization of Drugs

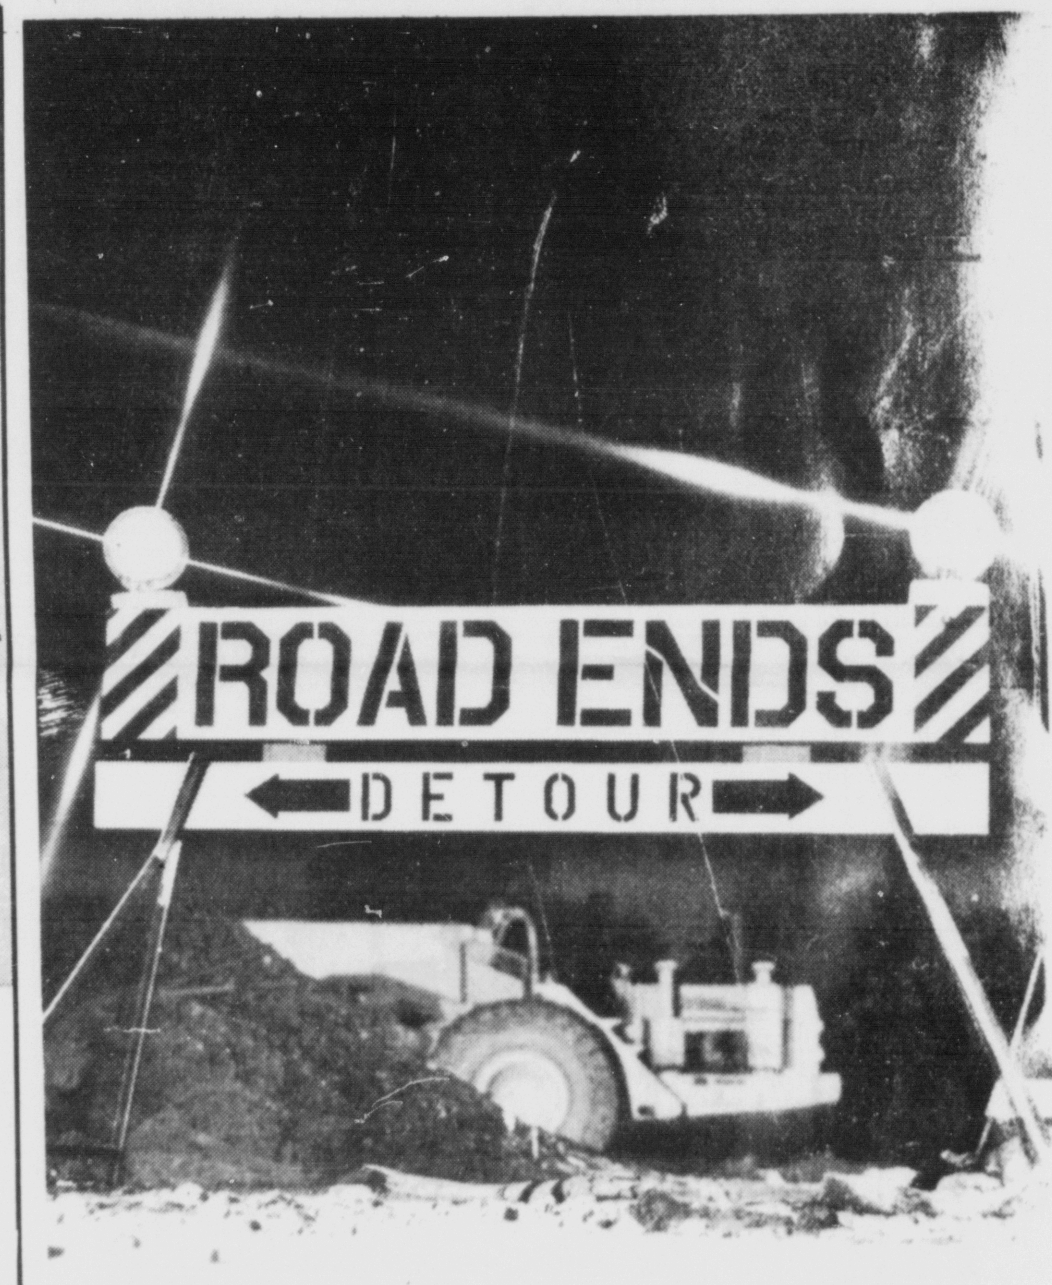

MIAMI (AP) — Louis Ginsberg publicly showed his stern parent side Sunday when he turned to blue-jeaned, bearded son Allen, pointed his finger and told him he was setting a bad example for the younger generation.

The 43-year-old son, a poet and advocate of LSD and marijuana, had just finished a speech to 1,000 persons at Temple Israel.

After he sat down, his father took the floor, and Allen couldn't even get his attention long enough to interrupt.

The elder Ginsberg described his son as the guru of the flower generation and reprimanded him for urging legalization of drugs. He said, "I can get high on the view of a beautiful mountain stream and on the greenness of the fields."

ANSWER TO AIRPORT CONGESTION? That is what is hoped for an aluminum "plane pod" expected to be ready by the time the jumbo jets go into service. Vehicle, shown as model above, will be 48 feet long and capable of transporting 150 passengers from terminal directly to airliner door. Hydraulic jacks raise and lower passenger compartment to plane and terminal door levels. At right, a full-scale prototype under construction at New Kensington, Pa.

IT'S TEN YEARS OLD and early skeptics of a 2,342-mile inland waterway have been proven wrong by the St. Lawrence Seaway. Despite success of the lock system which opened the Canadian interior and American midwest to ocean traffic, officials still look for ways to better the waterway. Average per-ship tonnage has increased from about 2,800 tons in 1959, the system's first year, to about 7,300 tons in 1968. Estimated total cargo traffic for 1968 was a record-setting 52 million tons.

"SHOOTING THE TUBE" on a perfect wave like this (top) is every surfer's dream. Trouble is, it's a huge plastic swell on landlocked farmland near Wooster, Ohio. The synthetic wave was created during inflation of a giant one-acre enclosure used as a greenhouse (bottom). The structure, one-eighth the cost of conventional greenhouses, may be the forerunner of inflatables capable of covering entire communities, according to Goodyear, its developer.

The Prayer
from
The Upper Room

The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them. (Luke 2:20)

Once a daughter gets married, it's no longer her papa who has to pay."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make Stan pay back papa?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a man is required to support his wife; that if another supports her for him, he must make repayment even where the other person is his wife's father.

(Based upon a 1924 Mass. Supreme Judicial Court Decision)
